Every 20 years, the City and County of Denver (CCD) and Xcel Energy renew their public franchise agreement, which is a contract between CCD and Xcel Energy outlining public benefits and granting Xcel the right to use Denver's public right-of-way and other City property to install, maintain and repair infrastructure and facilities to deliver utility services. The current franchise expires at the end of 2026, and CCD and Xcel Energy have negotiated a new agreement for council approval to refer to Denver voters for approval in the November 2025 election.

The public franchise agreement grants Xcel Energy the non-exclusive right to use Denver's right-of-way and Airport property to build the infrastructure needed to provide electricity, gas, steam and chilled water to the city – its homes, businesses, and public spaces. The franchise agreement also regulates operational matters pertaining to traffic signals and streetlights managed in partnership with Xcel Energy. The DEN Operating Agreement governs the procedures and logistical operations specific to providing utility service on DEN property.

Neither the public franchise agreement nor the Operating Agreement set utility rates.
