Scope of work:

There are over 300 total conveyance units at DEN that are at or past their useful life expectancy and need to be addressed by the modernization program and the concourse renewal program. The best solution is a process called modernization. This process stops short of a total replacement which is costly and time consuming. Modernization is the process of upgrading the critical parts of the unit with modern technology, increasing performance, improving safety, and providing an up-to-date appearance. The only portion that is left is the significant structural components that can be reused. This is the most cost-effective method of updating a conveyance unit.
