The amendment also allows owners/tenants of existing buildings that have been modified without permits required by Denver's building code to apply for a compliance plan and Conditional Certificate of Occupancy even if the owners/tenants have not voluntarily disclosed the existence of unpermitted work, but only for the first 6 months after the effective date of the ordinance. Additionally, owners/tenants of existing buildings that have received an order to vacate from the city due to unpermitted work or no valid certificate of occupancy from December 1, 2016 to the effective date of the ordinance, may take advantage of the compliance plan and Conditional Certificate of Occupancy process. Last, the amendment creates a requirement for CPD to prepare reports of the compliance plan and Conditional Certificate of Occupancy programs for City Council every 6 months, and for CPD to review the program 3 months prior to the end date of the ordinance and report any recommendations to City Council. .
