Rhoda Pilmer is an esteemed Assistant District Attorney at the Adams County District Attorney's Office, serving directly under the elected District Attorney. In her role, she oversees several critical areas of the office's operations, including County Court Attorneys, Intake, Appeals, Victim Services, Paralegals, and Legal Assistant units. Rhoda has been a dedicated member of the District Attorney's office for eighteen years, during which she has tried over eighty cases to verdict.

Throughout her tenure, Rhoda has led key initiatives aimed at improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the office. Her efforts have included increasing data transparency, enhancing liaison support with all jurisdictional law enforcement agencies, and advancing Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging initiatives. In 2024, she spearheaded the Women's Leadership Summit, a significant event that provided leadership training and coaching to women seeking professional growth within public service.

Rhoda received her Juris Doctor from the University of Denver Law School. To further her expertise in leadership, she also obtained a graduate certificate in Executive Leadership from Cornell University.

Rhoda has dedicated her career to public service and ethically representing the people of Colorado. Her daily efforts are focused on ensuring community safety and well-being. She is passionate about encouraging women to join and succeed in the legal profession, and she works tirelessly to create opportunities for their professional development. Rhoda's extensive experience, leadership, and unwavering commitment to justice have made her a vital asset to the Adams County District Attorney's Office.
