Pilar Castro-Reino recently retired from the Denver Public Library, where she managed several branches as well as immigrant services for the system. Pilar earned her GED, then proceeded to earn her Associate's Degree in Liberal Arts, and a B.A. in Spanish. She graduated with her MLS from the University of Arizona in Tucson. Born in Puerto Rico, she first joined the Denver Public Library focusing on providing customer services and meeting the needs of Spanish speaking populations. She has loved learning and leading programming for our increasingly ethnically diverse populations in Denver.
