Eldridge Greer joined DPS in 2007-08 as manager of the department of psychological services and was selected for his current role in 2016. He had served five years as a school psychologist in Adams 14 before joining DPS. Eldridge earned his bachelor's degree from Cornell and his master's degree in developmental psychology and doctorate in child clinical and developmental psychology from the University of Iowa.

Eldridge has focused on systemic change for our most vulnerable students, including:

- Accelerating discipline reform efforts, resulting in 64% fewer out-of-school suspensions and 78% fewer expulsions in the past 10 years.
- Providing direct support and subject matter expertise for a $12 million Whole Child mill-levy override request that is expected to go before Denver voters in November. If approved, this request will result in a significant funding increase allowing all schools to boost social-emotional support for their students.
- Securing a $4.5 million grant for increased mental health supports for students, directly assisting 44 of the district's most challenged schools in more deeply addressing students' mental health needs.

Kyla Armstrong-Romero

I am running for school board, because I am very passionate about education and serving our community. I am the director of the Second Judicial District Senate Bill 94 Program which is a program that serves at-risk youth and provides alternatives to incarceration. I also teach graduate and undergraduate courses at Colorado Technical University. I am extremely passionate about learning and education. In the past, I worked as a social caseworker with the Department of Human Services and I've also worked for the Aurora Police Department as a victim advocate. I was recognized as a community hero in 2012 for my work in the community and as a first responder with the Aurora Theater Tragedy. I have a Ph.D. in Human Services and a Master of Science Degree in Criminology. My undergraduate degree is a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Spanish and I've lived in Argentina and Mexico.

As an educator and juvenile justice professional, I have a well-rounded view point. My unique background of higher education, juvenile justice, advocacy, and serving non-profits can bring a fresh perspective to what should be a well-rounded, community-minded School Board. My educational background and experiences provide for a unique perspective on where education is and where the educational industry is potentially heading. I want the very best education possible for my children and all children, because I know first-handedly how important a good education is and where it can take you.

ABOUT LESLIE

From Leslie's earliest memories of her mother's public service to her leadership roles in college, the State Capitol, and the philanthropic community, Leslie has both demonstrated an unwavering commitment to public service and gained the experience necessary to be a highly effective public servant. Leslie wants to put her experience and passion for community service to work on behalf of District 8.

A CHILDHOOD STEEPED IN SERVICE

Leslie is passionate about making a difference in the community through advocacy and civic engagement. This passion grew from a very early age as she watched her extraordinary mother serve her family, her community and her nation.

Raised by a single mother who was an officer in the Army Nurse Corps, Leslie grew up all over the world, where she learned the importance of discipline, hard work and commitment to public service.

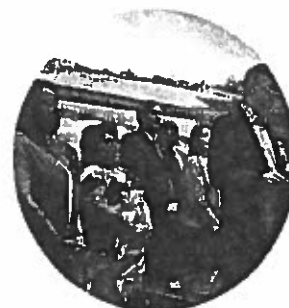

Putting in practice the values ingrained in her as a child, Leslie has become an active member and leader in her community. Leslie graduated from the University of Colorado at Boulder where she was elected President of the Student Union's Legislative Council and made it her mission to create a campus climate that was inclusive of all students regardless of race, class, sexual orientation, gender or ability.

FINDING SOLUTIONS TO COMPLEX STATE ISSUES

Leslie is well-versed in the workings of the executive and legislative branches of state government. She knows how to be an effective leader, and is eager to put these skills to work for the residents of District 8.

Upon graduating college, Leslie continued to work in public service at the Colorado State Capitol. Under strong leaders such as former Speaker Andrew Romanoff, former Majority Leader Alice Madden, former House District 8 Representative Rosemary Marshall and Deputy Mayor Treasurer Cary Kennedy, Leslie gained direct experience in public policy.

Leslie went on to serve as a Senior Policy Advisor to Governor Bill Ritter, Jr., specializing in social services, criminal justice, mental health, specific issues relating to senior citizens, and anti-poverty issues. She met regularly with legislators and constituents from across the political spectrum to contribute to the creation of just and clear policy and laws. Leslie knows first-hand how to bring people together to solve some of our state's biggest obstacles.

PUTTING IDEAS INTO ACTION IN OUR COMMUNITY

After leaving government service, Leslie became a Program Officer with the Gill Foundation where she led philanthropic initiatives focusing on LGBT equality and alliance-building in communities of color.

More recently, Leslie decided to form her own small business as a way to continue to serve the community through strategic planning and community partnership consulting. She has served on multiple community boards and commissions, including serving as gubernatorial appointee to the state's Judicial Performance Commission and as a mayoral appointee to Denver's Cultural Affairs Commission. Additionally, Leslie has served on the Board of Directors for Urban Peak, Colorado's leading homeless youth service agency.

Leslie is also a co-founder of New Era Colorado, the state's leading organization focused on the engagement of young people in our community and served as President of Colorado Black Women for Political Action.

LESLIE FOR COLORADO TEAM

LINDA DRAKE TREASURER

Linda Drake is a community-based worker, focused on youth and families in the metro area. Drake worked in collaboration with the Denver Youth Corrections parole officers to transition incarcerated youth back into the community. Other past work includes the CASASTART Case Manager and Case Coordinator, working with youth in Northeast Denver aimed to empower and create success for youth and their families. She provided individual and family counseling services to at-risk youth. All Drake's work as an advocate for youth and dedication to social justice work was spurred by her time as a Denver Public Schools teacher.

CAROLYN RIGGS CAMPAIGN MANAGER

Carolyn Riggs is a Colorado native and graduated from Western State Colorado University with a degree in organization communications (campaign management and public relations). A former restaurant/bar owner, Gunnison City Council member 2013-2015, City of Gunnison Planning & Zoning Commissioner 2009-2013, and co-chair of the Gunnison County Democrats. She successfully ran her own city council campaign in addition to a County Commissioner campaign in Gunnison; this past year she was a Field Organizer for the Colorado Coordinated Campaign where she ran field operations for 6,000 square miles (5 counties) across the Western Slope. Carolyn's community work includes a focus in food security, women's reproductive rights, and being an advocate for the working class.

Chris Co-Chair

Chris Swank is a master entrepreneur and a recognized and respected thought leader in Denver's business community. He co-owns Mezcal Mexican restaurant in Denver and La Rumba, Denver's late-night Latin-club featuring cocktails and regular salsa lessons. Swank also owns the historic Bluebird Theater, one of Colorado's most popular music venues.

Anna Jo Co-Chair

Anna Jo Haynes is the president emeritus of the Mile High Montessori Early Learning Centers, Denver's oldest and largest provider of subsidized quality early childhood care and education. An education and early childhood expert, Haynes founded Denver's Ready to Succeed Early Childhood Council and the Colorado Children's Campaign, and is the past president of the Women's Foundation of Colorado.

Dan Co-Chair

A former public defender, Dan Recht has spent 25 years as a nationally-recognized defense attorney. Dan was honored seven years in a row as one of the "Best Lawyers in America" and is annually tapped as 5280 Magazine's "Super Lawyer." Dan is past president of the Colorado Criminal Defense Bar, past chair of the ACLU of Colorado, and leads the Second Judicial District Judicial Performance Commission.

Mecca Co-Chair

Mecca Hamlett is a junior at East High School and will graduate with the class of 2017. Mecca is an active member of the Denver community and made headlines last year when she led her school's walkout in protest of police brutality in communities of color. Mecca is a true student leader and is a welcome addition to the campaign. Mecca plans to attend UCLA.

RE: Application for the Denver Crime Prevention and Control Commission

Dear Mr. Aragon:

Please consider me to serve on the Denver Crime Prevention and Control Commission. It is my hope to assist people to stay out of the criminal justice system and to make our city safer.

I grew up in Denver in the Park Hill neighborhood. I attended what was then Philips Elementary School, Smiley Middle School and Manual High School. During this time I saw kids flourish and reach their potential while seeing other kids with the same gifts and ability go the other way.

I believe that these experiences shaped me and these experiences are a reason that I began my legal career as a deputy state public defender. While I loved my job, it was difficult to see people that I cared about not reach their potential. Seeing this, I began to devote time and energy to activities outside of work, assisting people from getting into or remaining in the criminal justice system.

When my caseload was primarily comprised of juveniles, the then Magistrate and now Judge William Alexander asked me to participate in Pathways for Youth, to help kids outside of the Courtroom. With activities such as this, the Transition Task Force, and political work within the community, I have attempted to share ideas with different people in order to reach a common goal of keeping our community safer and happier. I hope to do this as a member of this committee. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Sean M. McDermott

Heather Salazar is the Associate Director of Offender Programs with the Colorado Department of Corrections, Division of Adult Parole, Community Corrections, & YOS. She developed, implemented, and managed the Pre-Release Program in 19 CDOC facilities and Community Re-Entry services statewide. She currently manages the Community Moves and Referrals Unit in association with community correction centers and boards statewide. And most recently has been tasked with chairing a number of department strategic planning committees and various LEAN efforts.

She also coordinates with various state and local agencies, as well as, faith and community based agencies for grants and special projects. A few of her collaborative efforts include coordination of services with CDHS Fatherhood Initiative, CDOLA Second Chance Act Grant, Interagency Council on Homelessness & Colorado SOAR Initiative, US DOJ Prisoner Reentry Initiative, CDLE LMI Gateway in CDOC, and CDHS Child Support Modification grant.

Mrs. Salazar graduated from the University of Colorado – Colorado Springs with her bachelors in both Psychology and Sociology with an emphasis on criminology, a Master in Criminal Justice (MCJ), and a Master in Public Administration (MPA). She has conducted research on Community Corrections Program Evaluation and Multidisciplinary Teams and the Polygraph Process which she presented at the International Conference on Advances in Management (Boston, MA July 2003). She has also completed the National Institute of Corrections Offender Workforce Development Specialist training and hosted trainings statewide for other state/local agencies. She has conducted various presentations and trainings, such as the 2010 Women in Corrections Conference, Mexican Federal Prison System, National TASC conferences and American Corrections Association conference.

Anthony R. Aragon, Director of Boards and Commissions
City and County of Denver Building, Room 350
Denver, Co. 80202

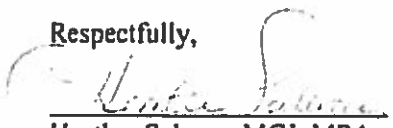

Mr. Aragon,

This letter is in response to the announcement that the Crime Prevention and Control Commission (CPCC) vacancies. Please find attached my Boards and Commissions Application form and biography. In both my capacity with the Colorado Department of Corrections and as a Denver resident, we as a community have the ability to reduce criminal behaviors through effective programming and evidence based interventions. It's also important for public safety and stabilization efforts, that we collaborate and coordinate these services on a state, local, and community/faith based level. That we are fiscally responsible to our citizens through the utilization of data driven programs, coordination of service delivery (avoid duplication), and utilization of jail alternatives when appropriate.

In my position with the Colorado Department of Correction, we implemented a Pre-Release Program in 19 CDOC facilities that was evidence-based and research driven. We consulted with Dr. Altschuler from Johns Hopkins University and utilized various National Institute of Corrections models for the program design and implementation. In my current capacity with DOC, I am both chairing and participating in a number of Department Strategic Planning Committees and LEAN initiatives. Some of those committees and initiatives include, but are not limited to, State Identification, Parolee Employment, Homelessness, SOAR benefit acquisition, Community Corrections Bed Utilization, and Program Consistency. In addition, I have been involved in various grants and community collaborations. Some such grants and collaborations include NIC Offender Workforce Development Specialist Training, Prisoner Reentry Initiative (PRI), Fatherhood Initiative (in collaboration with DHS), and two Second Chance Act grants (services for sex offenders and another in collaboration with Division of Housing for dually diagnosed parolees).

I hope that you will find that my work experience and area of expertise would be a contribution to the Commission and look forward to serving my own community in a formal capacity.

Respectfully,

Heather Salazar, MCJ, MPA

September 2, 2011

Anthony Aragon
Director, Boards and Commissions
City and County of Denver Building Room 350
Denver, CO 80202

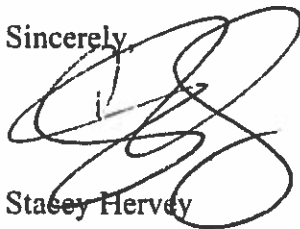

Dear Mr. Aragon:

A colleague sent me the application for Board Members for the Crime Prevention and Control Commission. After reading the description and mission statement, I am interested in serving on this committee.

My commitment to the criminal justice system has been served in many different facets. After majoring in Sociology, I became a Victim Advocate for the City of Boulder. After two years of working for the department, I was hired as an officer. I quickly realized that although I loved the job, my interests were better served by working with young people and preventing them from committing crimes. I currently teach criminal justice at both the high school and college level. It is my firm belief that when agencies work together instead of separately, reduction in crime and recidivism can occur. This being said, I am especially interested in Youth Crime Prevention. Education is the building block to success and too often I see young people not given opportunities because they do not fit into the "traditional" educational model.

Thank you for considering my interest in serving on this committee. Although I do not currently reside in Denver (I moved after my divorce), I work within the city and my children attend Denver Public Schools. It is my hope to move back next year when my lease is up so again I can live in one of the best cities around.

Sincerely,

Stacey Hervey

The mark of his leadership has impacted the Denver community in his work as founder of the Colorado Coalition of Faith formed in 2005 in response to Hurricane Katrina. The Coalition brought together Pastors, churches, community leaders and professionals representing nearly every facet of crisis support within the state of Colorado.

In the fall of 2014 he organized the Colorado Black Leadership Caucus which is comprised of key community organizations representing the interest of African Americans, including the NAACP (Denver/Aurora), Urban League, Greater Metro Denver Ministers Alliance, Colorado Black Chamber of Commerce, Colorado Black Women for Political Action, Northeast Islamic Center and several others.

Pastor Del provided leadership for consecutive terms as Vice-President and President of the Greater Metro Denver Ministerial Alliance from 2013-2016. Presently has membership on several boards, City and State commissions.

He is an avid researcher, author, and gifted on air radio and television personality with programs available in select broadcast markets, on-line or other mass media outlets.

Pastor Del is the father of five adult children and recently married to Aleina in January of 2014.
