 - 10-0 (3 absent) vote approved the contract
- The remainder of the meeting was dedicated to a presentation comparing alcohol and marijuana taxation, regulation, enforcement, associated crime, impairment, health impacts, etc.

- The committee listened to five presentations related to youth marijuana education, prevention and diversion programs currently in use in Denver.
 - Excise & Licenses presented on past marijuana education and awareness campaigns run by the City and County of Denver.
 - Amelie Company provided an overview of the “High Costs” campaign funded by ExL.
 - Representatives from CDPHE, Marijuana Education Initiative (MEI), and DPS discussed their specific programs for youth marijuana education and prevention.
- Of note, MEI pushed the importance of developing a curriculum, not just a campaign, to teach kids the facts surrounding marijuana in Colorado.

- How are you evaluating the success of Amelie's campaign?
- What tools are used to measure the effectiveness of the campaign?
- Are the various city efforts for marijuana youth education/prevention coordinated or in silos?
- Why is Excise & Licenses overseeing a youth education campaign?
- Are there coordinated efforts for youth education/prevention of alcohol, tobacco, opioids, etc.?
- Why did Denver need a unique campaign separate from the campaigns at the state level?
