5. General description or background of proposed request. Attach executive summary if more space needed:

Fund 13802 is a Denver Human Services (DHS) Special Revenue Fund that was created in 1987 to receive donations to be used for operational costs and services provided in connection with programs and events of the Family Crisis Center. DHS used the Family Crisis Center to provide residential care to children in its custody for many years, but the facility was closed in the summer of 2016 with no intention of reopening due to changes in child welfare practice. DHS would like to amend the ordinance language to expand the allowable purpose of fund 13802, which is currently written in a way that prevents DHS from spending the $47K balance in this fund. The funds can only be used for the Family Crisis Center, which no longer exists. DHS proposes to add the following language to how these funds can be used: "Funds shall be used for operational costs and services provided in connection with programs and events of the Family Crisis Center or for any purposes that support families and children involved in the child welfare system." [proposed new language is bolded and italicized]
