EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

18th and Chestnut is a planned mixed-income housing development located just steps from Union Station. This project will offer a total of 75 affordable units (34 units affordable at 60% AMI, 34 affordable at 50% AMI, and 7 affordable at 30% AMI) and we believe it is one of the last opportunities to secure affordability at this key transit-oriented development (TOD) site.

The City initially funded the project in 2013 with two loans - $2,500,000 from the General Fund and $950,000 from the IHO Fund. The project was also awarded 2013 low-income housing tax credits by CHFA, which were the major part of the equity component of the project's financing. The original project financing plan also included an EB-5 equity investment, which fell through, leaving about a gap in the project's financing. In the meantime, the project had already used its funds from the City to acquire the land, but construction has not proceeded.

Now our partner agency, the Denver Housing Authority (DHA), has stepped up to co-invest in the deal and close the financing gap. The project will sell the land to DHA and reserve back a 70-year ground lease in exchange for $2.75M of project financing. Some of the $2.75M will be paid outright as the purchase price for the land, and some will be in the form of a loan from DHA to the project. In lieu of a ground lease payment, the project will make an annual loan repayment to DHA. The State Department of Housing has also made a loan to the project, and Enterprise is the tax credit partner (see footnote).

This new project structure requires some changes to the City's loan documents, which are as follows:

- Because the developer no longer owns the land, we can no longer secure our loan with a direct Deed of Trust on the land (known as a fee simple interest in the land). Instead, we can place a Deed of Trust on all of the developer's rights under its ground lease with DHA.
- Because the project is starting two years later than anticipated, we are extending the maturity of this loan by two years. This will avoid potential complications with the maturity of the project's permanent mortgage and the end of the tax credit partnership.
- Our debt is subordinated to all other debt on the project, but the interest payment on this loan has been guaranteed by the developer.
- The developer has also asked for some more technical amendments to our boilerplate, including a definition of Net Cash Flow, the addition of a notice & cure period, an amendment to the Hazardous Materials clause, a clarification of the Guaranty on the smaller loan, and a minor update of the project description.
