Blueprint Denver 2019

Urban Center

- A high mix of uses throughout the urban center context. Even the residential areas are highly mixed-use, often with high-intensity multi-unit residential in mixed-use buildings. Block patterns are generally a regular grid with consistent alley access. Buildings are usually multi-story with a high degree of lot coverage.

Blueprint Denver 2019

- Community Center
 - Typically provides a mix of office, commercial, and residential uses. Buildings are larger than those found in local centers and orient to the street and other public spaces. There is a strong degree of urban design with continuous building frontages that define the public realm. Heights can be generally up to 12 stories in the taller areas and should transition gradually within the center's footprint to the surrounding residential areas
- Commercial Arterial
 - "Arterial streets are designed for the highest amount of through movement and the lowest degree of property access. Commercial streets typically contain commercial uses including shopping centers, auto services and offices. Buildings are often set back with onsite parking

Evaluation is based on the proposed zone district is consistent with the Future Street Classification, not to assess the traffic impacts of a specific development proposal.

Blueprint Denver 2019

Growth Areas Strategy

- Community centers and corridors that anticipate 25% of housing and 20% employment growth (p. 51)

Most growth is guided to regional centers, community centers and corridors, select districts and high and medium-high intensity residential areas. Other areas of the city are still expected to see some growth, however more limited.

Consistency with Neighborhood Context, Purpose and Intent

DIVISION 7.1 NEIGHBORHOOD CONTEXT DESCRIPTION

- The neighborhood context generally consists of multi-unit residential and mixed-use commercial strips and commercial centers (DZC, Division 7.1). The proposed rezoning to C-MX-8 is consistent with the neighborhood context description.
- According to DZC Section 5.2.2.1, General Purpose, the intent of the mixed use zone districts is to “promote safe, active, and pedestrian-scaled, diverse areas through the use of building forms that clearly define and activate the public street edge.” The adopted plan direction is consistent with the building forms that would be allowed in the requested zone district.
