DEN and Daon began an innovation partnership in the early summer of 2020 to develop solutions to address the COVID-19 pandemic. With the partnership's success in creating the app-based reservation system for health-conscious travelers, VeriFLY, DEN and will continue the partnership.

Daon and Denver International Airport have agreed to work in partnership to develop, accelerate and deliver contactless solutions which can improve passenger experience, increase health resilience, and increase overall "trust" in the travel process. These solutions will provide enhanced safety for passengers and employees and improve airport operations.

As part of this partnership, Daon will (1) cover all development costs associated with any solutions that would be piloted and/or deployed; (2) invest up to $25 million in pre- and post-security infrastructure related to health and wellness efforts, such as eGates, touchless enrollment kiosks, and routing/wait time technologies as DEN and Daon continue to partner on developing innovative solutions; (3) share future benefits of the partnership including intellectual property assets developed through the relationship with DEN during the period of performance of the relationship where the assets developed as part of this partnership are used at other airports; and (4) assist DEN in the development of an airport app that can be used to enhance a traveler's experience.

As part of this project DEN will (1) work with Daon on solution designs; (2) promote the partnership with airport stakeholders; (3) prioritize joint initiatives; (4) provide some of the manpower required to pilot and implement solutions; and (5) as traveler volumes return at DEN, facilitate discussions with airlines and airport concessions on ways to generate revenue.
