Background

State Law: Colorado House Bill 24-1304

- Requires municipalities to no longer enact or enforce minimum parking requirements for certain developments within an applicable transit service area:
 - Multifamily residential development
 - Adaptive reuse for development with 50%+ residential use

State law effective as of June 30, 2025

Background

- The law’s “applicable transit service areas” cover most of Denver.
- Areas not controlled by state law are mostly single unit residential and parks.

Proposed Text Amendment

Modernizing Parking Requirements proposes to remove minimum vehicle parking requirements for all land uses.

- Promote the development of more housing
- Provide flexibility for development to include the number of parking spaces necessary based on market conditions
- Streamline zoning regulations for efficiency and clarity

Proposed Text Amendment

- Removes vehicle parking exceptions
- Simplifies the use tables in all contexts
- Consolidates bicycle parking requirements into one article of the code
- Maintains existing maximum parking requirements near transit and downtown
