Per the 1988 Denver/Adams County Intergovernmental Agreement on a New Airport (IGA), Denver International Airport (DEN) is required to maintain aircraft noise levels in communities surrounding DEN within limits set by the agreement. DEN has contracted with Harris, Miller, Miller, and Hanson Inc. (HMMH) to provide on-call consulting services necessary to analyze the acoustic effects of various types of aircraft operations, as well as changes to those operations. These services are essential to DEN's ability to comply with the terms of the IGA, and to effectively mitigate potential issues before they can affect compliance. This 5th amendment will extend the contract with HMMH for an additional 36 months, and adds $450,000.00 to the total authorized amount.

Scope of work:

This 5th Amendment provides for the continuation of service of on-call consulting services to analyze Denver International Airport’s (DEN) aircraft noise impacts on surrounding communities through 2023. These services, include, but are not limited to the analysis of effects of various actions upon Denver/Adams County (IGA)-mandated aircraft noise limits. Harris, Miller, Miller, and Hanson Inc. (HMMH) possesses a deep and unique knowledge of the complex and unusual nature of the IGA and Noise Exposure Performance Standards (NEPS) noise compliance requirements. DEN has made a substantial investment in software tools and methodologies that HMMH has developed for the analysis and prediction of DEN’s NEPS impacts, and relies upon HMMH’s ARTSMAP software to calculate IGA compliance. At times, HMMH principals serve as expert witnesses in DEN’s defense of noise-related litigation. The continued availability of this resource is essential to DEN’s operation.
