

PROCLAMATION

City and County of Denver

Proclamation No. 13-0317 Declaring Friday, May 17, 2013 as Hepatitis Testing Day in Denver

WHEREAS, Hepatitis C is the leading cause of cirrhosis and liver cancer, the number one reason for liver transplants, and is recognized as the most common blood-borne viral infection in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Hepatitis C has infected an estimated 85,000 Coloradans, as many as 4 million American citizens (nearly 2 out of every 100 persons), and over 200 million people worldwide; and

WHEREAS, approximately 15,000 Hepatitis C-related deaths occur annually in the United States, more deaths than HIV, and it is expected to triple in the next 10 to 20 years with a projected direct and indirect cost of $85 billion through 2019; and

WHEREAS, one in thirty-three baby boomers has Hepatitis C, and the incidence of the disease disproportionately affects minority communities, many of which may remain unaware of their status without increased screening efforts; and

WHEREAS, 75 percent of infected persons do not show any signs or symptoms, leading the Hepatitis C virus to cause poor health outcomes and to be labeled as the “the silent epidemic”; and

WHEREAS, risk factors and testing can be evaluated to detect Hepatitis C virus infections, early diagnosis and new approved drug treatments can save lives, money and resources, thus making Hepatitis C one of the top preventable causes of death in the United States; and
