Angelina Sierra-Sandoval

Angelina Sierra-Sandoval is a 5th generation Coloradoan, born and raised in the Sunnyside neighborhood of Northwest Denver. She earned a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Colorado Denver in Political Science and Public Policy in 2014 and is currently pursuing her Master's Degree in Public Administration with a concentration in Local Government at the University of Colorado Denver. Angelina serves as the Legislative Assistant to House Majority Leader Crisanta Duran.

Before serving as a Legislative Aide, she held numerous fellowships including Denver City Council, the Colorado General Assembly and the U.S. Senate in Washington D.C. She currently serves as Board Co-Chair for the Colorado Organization for Latina Opportunity and Reproductive Rights Board of Directors and also serves as a board member for the Sunnyside United Neighborhood Inc.

Her expertise includes public policy, state-level legislative process and youth empowerment. Being from a working-class family she understands the needs of her community and hopes to offer her leadership skills to her role on the Denver Latino Commission.

Nicole Taylor

Nicole Taylor is a Student Conduct Officer for the Community College of Denver. In her current position she strives to bring awareness of cultural competencies, social justice, and its impact within the realm of student conduct to faculty, staff and students.

As an undergraduate she completed research that explored topics related to access and equity in higher education; teaching and learning in racially diverse college classrooms; and the examination of Inclusive Excellence and Diversity in and out of the classroom. This passion stems from Nicole's early work at Denver Department of Human Services where she discovered her fervidness for public service.

Her experience has driven her to serve in many capacities as a change agent, such as a board member of the Montbello Organizing Committee, as a Denver Grand Jury Foreperson, and maintaining active membership in the Aurora Chapter of the NAACP. Through these community efforts Nicole maintains a proven ability to drive innovation, creativity, thoughtful leadership, and collaboration with all stakeholder groups.

Nicole received her BA in Law and Society from The University of Denver, and her Masters in Criminal Justice from CSU-Global.

Arrah Gallaher

Arrah Gallaher, M.A., currently serves as a GoodGuides Mentoring Manager with Goodwill Industries of Denver in their Youth Career Development Services department. Mrs. Gallaher oversees one of the largest mentoring grants Goodwill Denver has ever received, through U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention and Goodwill International. Mrs. Gallaher has worked for Goodwill Industries of Denver for over 10 years supporting the effort to increase the enrollment and retention of underrepresented students into college. Mrs. Gallaher obtained her undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Colorado-Boulder in political science and educational practices and policies, respectively, finishing graduate school with highest distinctions. Mrs. Gallaher is a Colorado native, and a first generation college student and is a graduate of Northglenn High School located in Northglenn, Colorado.

Mrs. Gallaher is currently the board president for Low Income Family Empowerment Center (LIFE). LIFE was created through a partnership with Adams County Housing Authority in 2007 to address low-income individuals' and families' unmet basic needs. In addition, Mrs. Gallaher is on the board of directors for the Denver Hispanic Chamber's Foundation as well a committee member for the Denver Foundation's Philanthropic Leadership Committee, and a member of LatinasGive!, Denver's 1st Latina giving circle.

Mrs. Gallaher has found all of her experiences volunteering to be extremely rewarding, humbling, and valuable. As an individual whose current job relies heavily on the support of volunteers, she is constantly motivated to find ways that she can support her community in meaningful ways.
