Eboni Boneé Coleman is a proud Denver native, multimedia artist, business owner, and community advocate dedicated to cultural preservation, creative expression, and the empowerment of BIPOC LGBTQIA2+ voices. As a co-founding member of Black Pride Colorado, she works to celebrate and uplift BIPOC queer narratives while fostering spaces for inclusivity and belonging.

Eboni serves as the Advisory Board Secretary for the Stiles African American Heritage Center, championing the preservation of Denver's rich African American history. Her commitment to representation extends through memberships with Black Women Photographers and Brown Girls Doc Mafia, organizations that promote diverse voices in visual storytelling. She also serves on the Denver Kwanzaa Committee, helping honor cultural traditions and community celebration.

She is actively involved in community initiatives as a committee member for the Lavender Hill Cultural District and serves as an Advisory Board Member for Digital Media with the Colorado Council of Black Nurses. Additionally, Eboni brings her expertise as an arts professional to the Colfax Bus Rapid Transit Public Art Project 2024, contributing to Denver's vibrant cultural landscape.

Eboni's work and advocacy are driven by a passion for storytelling, cultural representation, and fostering spaces where BIPOC and LGBTQIA2+ communities can thrive authentically and unapologetically.
