7. Is there any controversy surrounding this ordinance? (Groups or individuals who may have concerns about it?) Please explain.

There is some concern among the Marijuana industry specifically about the proactive requirement that all cultivation and manufacturers of infused products (MIPS) facilities must develop and implement an approved odor control plan, and the costs associated therewith. There has also been a desire expressed to allow facilities time to plan and budget for odor control plans. We believe that these concerns have been adequately addressed to move the provisions updates forward.
