Dear Council:

There have been so many changes to my neighborhood, Clayton, that make me no longer sure where I am when walking to the zoo. Mostly I miss the trees, but there have been lovely bungalow homes sold and scraped away. The home at 2600 N. Milwaukee is not just another bungalow where a family called "home," but designed by Mr. Henderson. He has other addresses to his credit, but what is more personal than the family home? As a testament to his dedication to our community, and to Denver, I urge the Council to declare 2600 N. Milwaukee a Historical Landmark. My neighborhood, Clayton, and Skyland are both changing, and what an empowering way to show the children of the City that they too might design a place to call home. And is there anywhere more empowering than "home"?

Respectfully
