Supporting the Colorado Energy Plan Proclamation No. 17-1037

WHEREAS, in 1869, the Denver Gas Co., which would eventually become the Public Service Company of Colorado, a subsidiary of Xcel Energy Inc., began serving customers, and has continually provided safe, reliable, and affordable service to the citizens of Denver; and

WHEREAS, Xcel Energy, as part of a comprehensive strategy for our energy future, has requested from the Colorado Public Utilities Commission to approve a process to implement a plan, known as the Colorado Energy Plan, to enable Xcel Energy to develop a significantly cleaner energy mix and reduce carbon emissions in Colorado; and

WHEREAS, under the proposed plan, Xcel Energy would voluntarily retire two coal-fired generating units ahead of their original retirement dates, while seeking to add hundreds of megawatts of new wind and solar to replace the retired coal-fired generation; and

WHEREAS, if approved, Xcel Energy plans on utilizing advanced energy resources that are built in Colorado, for Colorado, with an estimated investment of $2.5 billion in clean energy as a result of the plan; and

WHEREAS, Xcel Energy's rates are competitive both nationally and in the states it serves. This plan can help keep electricity costs for customers in Denver low and predictable; and

WHEREAS, Denver supports increasing the use of clean and renewable wind and solar power on the grid, and if implemented, Xcel Energy could achieve 55% renewable energy on the power grid by 2026 and reduce carbon emissions by 60% from 2005 levels.
