Ashley Altieri - property owner	ashton.altieri@gmail.com	4/22/2019	Strongly support the designation	Our special street is largely all that remains of the 19th century subdivision "River Front". Remarkably, more than 125 years after most of our homes were originally built, the street remains largely intact and serves as a vestige to the past in a vast sea of change. It's likely River Drive is the only area in the Jefferson Park neighborhood that will ever be considered for historical preservation. And considering Jefferson Park is among the oldest residential neighborhoods in Denver, it's seems very appropriate a small collection of 17 homes be preserved.
Donielle Markel - property owner	donielle.markel@gmail.com	4/22/2019	Somewhat support the designation	We've lived on River Drive since 2004, and would love to see the block continue to flourish with owners who appreciate the beautiful history of our city and block. Personally, I am a bit apprehensive about the rules surrounding upgrades and renovations to our property. As a homeowner, I dislike the additional hoops we'd have to jump through when approaching street facing improvements we'd like to do - a rather large negative for me. With that said, the positives seems to outweigh the negatives in terms of historical designation. And I am hopeful the historical review committee wont be difficult to work with.
Jeff Rodgers - property owner	jeffryanrodgers@gmail.com	4/24/2019	Strongly support the designation	Over the last 10 years, much of the housing history of Jefferson Park has been lost. River Drive is a tiny oasis that maintains the history of our neighborhood. I have been extremely proud of my neighbors and the work that has been done to restore and maintain these homes. I fully support the designation and hope this small area of Jefferson Park can keep the character of the neighborhood for generations to come.

Joan Bondy - property owner	joan.bondy@hotmail.com	5/22/2019	Strongly support the designation	I support the historic preservation of River Drive. I've lived in my home for 35 years. Many fine old homes have been demolished forever in the last few years in this area. We have a unique and valuable example of vintage housing, much of it improved and updated. Preserving the past for the future requires this effort.
Lewis Bussey - property owner	lebarch@aol.com	6/3/2019	Strongly support the designation	As a homeowner and landowner, it was my desire to see this short street preserved into the future. My father helped until it was impractical for him during the early 80s downturn. My family lived in 2556 R.D. during the 1980s, and our Queen Anne cottage (1888) is a delightful representation of the block. Whole hearted support for the designation.
Kym Foster - property owner	NONE	6/3/2019	Strongly support the designation	With the overwhelming amount of slot homes and oversized apartments destroying the character and neighborhood feel of Jefferson Park, I feel the only recourse residents could take was to ask for Historic designation to maintain one of the few blocks of remains homes in this neighborhood.
Lindsay Nason - resident/relative of property owner	lnason@gmail.com	6/10/2019	Strongly support the designation	It's important to remember the roots of our city, and preserve the character and culture. So much is changing and being torn down and forgotten. I want to preserve this block so that my neighbors, the community, and I can enjoy the rich history.
Stephen D Bordonaro - property owner	steve.bordonaro@gmail.com	6/10/2019	Strongly support the designation	With new development increasing every year, we must consider our rich Denver history. As a homeowner of one of the oldest homes on River Drive (1886), I support the historic designation. It is critical that we preserve the intact historical charm of this rare street. Once gone, it can never be replaced.

As a long-time resident of the Denver area (almost 50 years) and the owner of an historic house in North Denver for 32 years, I want to express my support for this historic designation. My old friend lived in one of those houses for many years, when it was in pretty bad shape. It has since been remodeled and made livable and beautiful. I hope this area can be protected from the rampant growth taking over this old neighborhood. I know a lot of the houses that have been torn down were not worth saving, but this group is!

Hello

I am writing in full support of granting this very special area historic district status. I grew up in Denver and currently live in the neighboring LoHi and have watched this incredible area change so rapidly, not always for the better. Watching any home or building built previous to 1900 demolished is devastating as parts of Denver history are forever removed. While I will not be in town for the public hearing May 21, I would like to put my full support behind granting this beautiful area historic status. Please let me know if I need to provide any further information

Very respectfully
