SCOPE OF WORK
Colorado Nonprofit Development Center
SOCSV-201525566(1)

I. Purpose of Agreement

The purpose of the contract is to establish an agreement and Scope of Work between Denver Department of Human Services (DDHS) and Colorado Nonprofit Development Center (CNDC) to operate and maintain staff for the Community Reentry Project (CRP) to reduce recidivism and improve the quality of life and safety in the Denver community. The "jail to community collaborative" connects participants transitioning from jail with supportive skills, resources, and relationships to promote positive community involvement.

II. Services To Be Provided

The Community Reentry Project (CRP) and its staff provide critical services for inmates and recently released persons from the county jail. Offenders have a history of repeated violations at the City level (Ordinance) and are sentenced to jail and/or County Misdemeanor level offenses. This effort is part of Denver's implementation of an evidence-based reentry process: the Transition from Jail to Community (TJC) model of the National Institute of Corrections/Urban Institute. The model calls for a comprehensive reentry process including but not limited to client assessment, transition and case planning, targeted services and evaluation. Reentry work in Denver is a collaborative process between the Denver County Jail management, its reentry staff and community based providers; largely those of the Community Reentry Project. This model is designed to target medium to high risk to reoffend inmates upon entrance into jail and provide services to them through transition into the community, with the goal of reducing recidivism. Staff and programs are co-located and use a common data collection system.

- A. CRP provides services to not less than 150 new and continuing clients per month at their community-based site. This number includes an average of 25 new clients per month that undergo an intake process with CRP staff.¹ The average length of services for those who successfully complete CRP programming is 9 months. Changes in the client population served will be based on data reflecting jail population needs and trends and only with Sheriff and Crime Prevention and Control Commission (CPCC) agreement and approval. Once in the community, clients who are residents of other counties, and/or who are under supervision from other counties and have not served a sentence within the past year at the Denver County Jail are not eligible for services to be paid for from CPCC funds. Other criteria and procedures will be followed as outlined in the Jail to Community Reentry Handbook and as directed through the TJC Model with final approval from CPCC.
- B. As part of the TJC model, CRP staff, in conjunction with Denver County Jail staff, will assess client risks and needs and provide core services (pre-approved, offender specific cognitive-behavioral skills curricula, employment readiness, coaching, and placement, benefit and ID acquisition, and case planning and management) to clients in jail and transitioning from the Denver County Jail to the community. Persons who are fully engaged in core services may be eligible for limited emergency transitional housing, public transportation and related vouchers (i.e. clothing). Depending on budget and availability, services and/or referrals may also include educational supports

¹ Based on one year of intake completion data (Q3, 2012-Q2, 2013. Intake includes an initial appointment with an assigned case manager and completion of a risk and needs assessment (LSI)

(i.e. GED preparation), family reunification and parenting, healthy living skills, relapse prevention, mental health, trauma and substance abuse treatment referrals, computer skills and related resources and supportive services.

- C. Clients eligible for services will have a proxy risk to reoffend score between 5 and 8 or according to appropriate assessment tools, scores that fall into medium or high risk and needs categories. Staff will use the Level of Service Inventory (LSI), (training on the LSI is required before administration) or WRNA (Women's Risk and Needs Assessment) and other agreed upon actuarial assessment to identify needs of clients. Case plans shall be based on the needs identified through assessments, as well as information gained from mental health, substance use and trauma assessments, and client history. Clients must have a current sentence for a Denver City Ordinance or Misdemeanor and be residents of Denver.

III. Contractor responsibilities:

- A. CRP staff will perform services at the Denver County Jail, and at the Community Reentry Project site. Additional work sites may be identified and approved. Some services may be provided from other agencies and sites as appropriate. Staff work includes:
1. Coordinate and implement evidence-based client services (cognitive skill, employment and case management) in compliance with the TJC model, with CPCC staff and Programs Committee.
 2. Maintain and ensure fidelity to principles, techniques and curriculum delivered.
 3. Ensure that CRP staff attend trainings as scheduled and use training appropriately.
 4. Maintain communication and coordination with other vendors as appropriate and approved by the CPCC Programs Committee.
 5. Ensure CRP staff follow and work with jail, CPCC staff and Programs Committee to update the Transition from Jail to Community Handbook.

- B. Services to be delivered by staff have already been identified by the CPCC program committee in conjunction with the Denver's Sheriff Department Programs Unit. New services or modifications to current approved services shall not be implemented without CPCC approval.
- C. CRP staff agrees to apply motivational interviewing and cognitive-based case management skills according to their level of training. Furthermore, access to incentives, such as bus passes and housing must be coupled with active participation in, or full completion of cognitive behavioral education modules/classes. Addressing the major criminogenic needs of antisocial thinking, attitudes, companions, and personality are proven to reduce recidivism. Enhancing decision making, critical thinking and problem solving skills, and increasing pro-social supports through targeted interventions using the appropriate frequency, intensity and duration should be considered as part of service delivery to meet these needs.
- D. Supplemental vendors may be selected by CRP staff, under CPCC oversight and through the CPCC operated Programs Committee. The City and County of Denver CPCC and the Programs Committee retain the right of approval for said vendors including the type and cost of services.

Staff must be willing to work with currently and previously incarcerated persons. Staff must be capable of careful documentation.
