growth and a market environment in which the supply of housing within the city has not kept pace with demand, particularly for households with low and moderate incomes; and

WHEREAS, Denver is also experiencing redevelopment trends in which formerly affordable housing units and the residents who occupied such units are increasingly being displaced by the construction of more expensive units, both in the for-sale and rental markets; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the foregoing trends, housing prices in Denver have been increasing in recent years at twice the national average; and

WHEREAS, the federal sources of funds upon which Denver has traditionally relied to support the city's affordable housing programs have declined by a third in recent years and are expected to decline even further in the future; and

WHEREAS, the city estimates that up to 4,500 dwelling units currently located in the city could lose affordability protections in the next 5 years, such as rental units that currently accept federal Section 8 vouchers but will not do so in the future; and

WHEREAS, the city estimates that, among households in Denver earning 80% or less of the area median income for the Denver metropolitan area, as many as 87,000 such households are "housing cost burdened" in the sense of being required to pay in excess of 30% of their monthly income for housing and utility costs; and

WHEREAS, the general lack of affordable housing for households of low and moderate income, along with the large number of existing households that are "housing cost burdened" cause many adverse social and economic impacts within the city, particularly impacts associated with the fact that persons who are employed in Denver are increasingly unable to afford to live in Denver near their place of employment; and

WHEREAS, the City and County of Denver, like cities throughout Colorado and the United States, has long treated the promotion and provision of affordable housing for persons of low and moderate incomes as an important and essential public service, and as a part of the city's fundamental mission to promote the public health, safety and general welfare; and

WHEREAS, particularly in light of the ongoing decline in federal resources to fund affordable housing programs, as well as the recent population and market trends described in these recitals, the City Council deems it essential for the city to now adopt new forms of dedicated revenue to support the city's affordable housing programs; and

WHEREAS, for the reasons set forth in Section 20-151 of this ordinance, the City Council has determined that there is a direct nexus between new construction in the city, generation of new employment, and increased demand for housing affordable to low and moderate income households, justifying a linkage fee on new construction to support the city's affordable housing programs; and

WHEREAS, Colorado state statutes, particularly §29-20-104 (1)(g), enable all municipalities and counties to regulate the use of land on the basis of the impact thereof on the community, and Denver is further empowered under its own plenary home rule authority to assess a linkage fee to mitigate the impacts of new construction on the supply of affordable housing within the city; and

WHEREAS, referred measure 2A approved by Denver voters in 2012 granted the city the authority to exceed the annual property tax revenue limitations set forth in Article X, Section 20 (7)(c) of the Colorado Constitution ("TABOR"), and to determine on a year-to-year basis how to allocate the extra revenue for essential city services; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor and the City Council have determined to allocate, beginning for 2016 property taxes to be collected in 2017 and continuing in future years, a portion of the city's lawful property tax revenue capacity for affordable housing programs in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor and the City Council expressly intend that a portion of dedicated tax revenue for affordable housing shall be devoted to developing more permanent assistive housing for residents of the city who are currently homeless and in the most desperate need of support and assistance from the city.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF DENVER:

Section 1. That Chapter 27 of the Denver Revised Municipal Code shall be amended by the addition of a new Article V, to read as follows:

For 2017 taxes to be collected in 2018, and in each subsequent, the city shall continue to maintain a separately itemized levy to fund affordable housing programs and, as provided in Section 20-26 (d), shall adjust the levy annually in coordination with the adjustment other city levies to the extent necessary to comply with the city property tax revenue limitation.

Division 2. Linkage fees

Sec. 27-151. Legislative findings and intent.

The city council has determined that Denver is experiencing an unprecedented escalation in housing costs, and thus a critical lack of housing opportunities for households with low or moderate incomes. In recent years, Denver has ranked at or near the top of national reports of U.S. cities in terms of inflation in housing costs. The declining availability of low and moderately priced housing in Denver forces persons employed in the city to either spend a disproportionate percentage of their disposable income on housing, thus sacrificing other necessities of life, or forces them to seek housing opportunities outside the city. The extraordinary housing cost increases in Denver are driven, in part, by the pace of population and job growth in the city, resulting in a situation where demand for housing has far outpaced supply, especially for persons who may find jobs in Denver's growing economy but are employed at low or moderate income levels.

The city council has determined that it is in the public interest to address the severe social and economic impacts to the city and its citizens caused by the increasing gap between supply and demand for housing by funding programs designed to preserve and increase the supply of affordable housing available to low and moderate income households. The city council specifically finds that it is appropriate to fund a portion of the costs of such programs from a linkage fee on new development for the following reasons:

- (a) New residential and non-residential development is demonstrably associated with the generation of new jobs at various income levels, with the number of jobs associated with any particular development being correlated with the type and size of the development.
- (b) When jobs at a low or moderate income level are generated as a direct consequence of new non-residential development, employees receiving such incomes will experience a lack of housing availability and affordability in Denver under current market conditions unless efforts are taken by the city to increase housing opportunities to keep pace with job growth.
- (c) The city council also specifically finds that job growth associated with new residential development is directly related to the income and spending capacity of the household occupying the residence and that the size of the residence, as measured in gross square footage, correlates with the income and spending capacity of the residents, thus causing a larger residence to drive more job growth and more concomitant secondary housing demand than a smaller residence.
- (d) For the foregoing reasons, the city council has determined there is a direct nexus between both non-residential and residential development, job growth, and demand for new housing that is affordable to households with low or moderate incomes.
- (e) The city council acknowledges that monetary exactions on new development cannot exceed an amount that is justified by the impacts caused by the development.

The city council has determined that the fees set forth herein fall far below the amount of revenue that would actually be necessary to meet the demand for new affordable housing driven by the job growth that is associated with new development, and thus these fees do not exceed the applicable standards that define the maximum legally justifiable fee.

- (f) The city council further acknowledges that the revenue derived from the fees provided herein must be used, not to address the existing gap between supply and demand for affordable housing in the city, but instead to mitigate future increases in the gap caused by new construction which will lead to new employment opportunities in the city, and the increased demand for affordable housing associated with such employment.
- (g) The city council has determined to set the affordable housing linkage fees set forth herein at a level much lower than those imposed by other cities, in an effort to ensure that the fees do not impair the feasibility of any development project in the city.
- (h) The foregoing findings are supported by the "Denver Affordable Housing Nexus Study" prepared for the City and County of Denver by David Paul Rosen & Associates and dated September 8, 2016, the contents of which are expressly incorporated herein as a part of the legislative findings of the city council.
- (i) The city council has further determined that, since the Denver does not impose nearly the range or amount of development impact fees as are imposed by virtually every other municipality throughout the Denver metropolitan area, the fees set forth herein will not place the city at a competitive disadvantage in relation to neighboring jurisdictions in terms of accommodating future population growth and economic development.

Sec. 27-153. Imposition of linkage fee.

(a) In general. Except as provided in section 27-154, an affordable housing linkage fee shall be imposed prior to the issuance of a building permit for any new structure or for any addition to an existing structure that increases the gross floor area of the existing structure, according to the following fee schedule:

(1) Structures containing any single-unit dwelling, any two-unit dwellings, any multi-unit dwellings designed and regulated under the International Residential Code, or any primary residential use other than the multi-unit dwellings provided in paragraph (2): $.60 per square-foot of gross floor area.

- (2) Structures containing multi-unit dwellings designed and regulated under the International Building Code: $1.50 per square-foot of gross floor area.
- (3) Structures containing any primary industrial, manufacturing and wholesale uses, or any primary agricultural uses: $.40 per square-foot of gross floor area.
- (4) Structures containing any primary commercial sales, services and repair uses, or any primary civic, public, or institutional uses: $1.70 per square-foot of gross floor area.
- (b) Mixed use structures; split properties. When a structure is proposed to be constructed and used for any combination of the uses set forth in subsection (a) of this section, the required linkage fee shall be determined based upon an apportionment of the gross floor area in the structure attributable to each of the proposed uses. When a structure is proposed to be constructed upon any property that is partially subject to either of the exceptions to applicability of the fee as set forth in section 27-154 (a) or (b), the required linkage fee shall be applied only to the gross floor area of construction that is physically located outside of the portion of the property to which the exception applies.
- (c) Modification of existing structures. The linkage fees imposed by this section shall not be required for the issuance of building permits associated with any improvement, repair, remodeling, tenant finish, or any other modifications to an existing structure unless the modification increases the gross floor area of the structure
 - (d) Annual Inflation adjustment; future fee increases.

- (1) On July 1, 2018 and on each July 1 thereafter, the fees set forth in subsection (a) of this section shall be adjusted in an amount equal to the percentage change from the previous year in the CPI-U. The adjustments will be reflected in a fee schedule issued by the executive director (manager) of the department of community planning and development and made publicly available in advance of the fees becoming effective. The annual inflation adjustment shall apply to and be collected in conjunction with the issuance of any building permit on or after July of the year in which the adjustment is made, regardless of when the application for the building permit was made.
- (2) As used in this subsection (d), the term "CPI-U" means the United States Department of Labor Statistics (Bureau of Labor Statistics) Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, All items, for the Denver-Boulder-Greeley, Colorado metropolitan area (1982-84-100). In the event that the CPI-U is substantially changed, renamed, or abandoned by the United States Government, then in its place shall be substituted the index established by the United States Government that most closely resembles the CPI-U.
- (3) Except as provided in paragraph (1) of this section the fees set forth in this section shall not be increased prior to January 1, 2022. On and after January 1, 2022, the fees set forth in this section shall not be increased in excess of the inflation adjustments set forth in paragraph (2) unless and until the city commissions another study to evaluate whether the fee increase will affect the economic feasibility of any type of development to which the fee increase is proposed to be applied.

Sec. 27-154. Exceptions.

The payment of linkage fees as set forth in section 27-53 shall not be required for the issuance of a building permit under any of the following circumstances:

qualifies for an exception under any other provision of this section.

(b) Construction upon any property subject to a preexisting obligation as a condition of zoning to provide affordable housing on the property.

(a) Construction upon any property which is, alone or in combination with other properties, the subject of a preexisting contractual commitment or covenant covenant and to which the city is a party, or any city-approved plan to build

The exception provided by this subsection (a) shall apply only for so long the preexisting contractual commitment or covenant to construct affordable housing covenant and is subsequently proposed for redevelopment shall be subject to remains in existence. Construction upon property that, alone or in combination with other properties, was originally developed under such a contractual commitment or payment of linkage fees hereunder unless the redevelopment is governed by a new contractual commitment or covenant to construct affordable housing, or otherwise enforceable by the city to construct affordable housing, including by way of example any development or subdivision agreement which includes an affordable housing moderately priced development units (MPDU's) under Article IV of this Chapter 27.

- (c) Affordable housing projects that are constructed with the support of any combination of federal, state or local financial resources, including private activity bonds, tax credits, grants, loans, or other subsidies to incentivize the development of affordable housing, including support from the affordable housing permanent funds created in section 27-150, and that are restricted by law, contract, deed, covenant, or any other legally enforceable instrument to provide housing units only to incomequalified households. This exception shall apply to any housing project financed or constructed by or on behalf of the Denver Housing Authority.
- (d) Residential dwelling units that are built by any charitable, religious, or other non-profit entity and deed-restricted to ensure the affordability of the dwelling unit to low and moderate income households.
- (e) Non-residential projects that are built by any charitable, religious or other non-profit entity and that are primarily used to provide, shelter, housing, housing assistance, or related services to low income households or persons experiencing homelessness.

1 (f) Construction by or on behalf of the federal, state or local governments or 2 any department or agency thereof, to the extent any or all of the gross floor area in the structure will be used solely for a governmental or educational purpose. 3 4 (g) Any structure that is being reconstructed due to involuntary demolition or 5 involuntary destruction as defined in Article XIII of the Denver Zoning Code, but 6 which also includes involuntary man-made forces. 7 (h) An addition of four-hundred (400) gross square feet or less to an existing 8 structure containing a single-unit dwelling or a two-unit dwelling. 9 (i) Accessory dwelling units as defined in Article XI of the Denver Zoning 10 Code. 11 12 Sec. 27-155. Build alternative. 13 (a) As an alternative to the linkage fee requirement set forth in section 27-14 153, an applicant for a building permit for any structure subject to the requirements of 15 this Division 2 may elect to build or cause to be built affordable housing units on the subject property or within a one-quarter mile radius of the subject property, with the 16 17 required number of affordable housing units to be determined by the following 18 formulas: 19 (1) Structures containing multi-unit dwellings: (Gross square feet of structure / 1000) X .0168 = number of units 20 (2) 21 Structures containing any primary industrial, manufacturing and 22 wholesale uses or primary agricultural uses: 23 (Gross square feet of structure / 1000) X .0054 = number of units (3) Structures containing any primary commercial sales, services and repair 24 25 uses or any primary civic, public and institutional uses: 26 (Gross square feet of structure / 1000) X .0228 = number of units

(4) Developments consisting of 50 or more single-unit dwellings or two-unit dwellings: number of affordable housing units shall equal two percent (2%) of the total number of housing units in the development.

In the event the application of the formulas set forth in this subsection to a particular project creates an obligation to build a fractional housing unit, any fraction of .5 or greater shall be converted into an additional unit.

- (b) Any housing units to be provided under the build alternative shall be restricted to households earning 80% or less of AMI, as defined in section 27-150.
- (c) An applicant who chooses to comply with the requirements of this Division 2 through the construction of affordable housing units shall submit to the executive director of the office of economic development sufficient information to enable the director to determine that the applicant will construct or cause to be constructed the affordable housing units, and enter into a binding agreement with the city to covenant-restrict such units in order to ensure their affordability, to stipulate when the affordable housing units will be built, and to include any other terms of conditions as may be imposed by the executive director to enforce the requirements of this section. The executive director may require in any such agreement forms of financial security to ensure that the units are built. If the executive director approves a build alternative under this section and an agreement is executed and recorded. the director shall deliver to the department of community and planning and development written notice of such approval and a copy of the agreement. Only after the agreement is executed and recorded may any building permits be issued for a project for which the applicant has elected to use the build alternative as provided in this section.

Sec. 27-156. Collection and remittance of linkage fees.

(a) The responsibility for the calculation and collection of linkage fees shall reside with personnel in the department of community planning and development, and the fees required by this division shall be collected in conjunction with the administration of the city's system for issuing building permits. Any and all linkage fees applicable to a construction project shall be paid in full prior to the issuance of any building permit, excluding the shoring or excavation permit, for that project. For projects such as townhomes where units receive separate building permits, fees shall be assessed on a permit-by-permit basis. All fees collected by the department shall be remitted to the Affordable Housing Linkage Fee Revenue Fund as provided in section 27-150 and used exclusively for the purposes set forth therein.

- (b) If, after the issuance of a building permit and collection of the applicable linkage fees but before the issuance of a certificate of occupancy, the amount of gross square footage of the construction project increases or a decision is made by the applicant to change the use of the structure to a use category for which a higher linkage fee would be imposed under section 27-153, then the applicant shall be required to pay additional linkage fees in compliance with this division.
- (b) Any dispute over the applicability or calculation of the linkage fees may be appealed by the applicant for a building permit to the executive director (manager) of the department of community planning and development, who shall determine such appeals in consultation with the executive director of the office of economic development.
- (c) Linkage fees previously paid by an applicant at building permit issuance may be refunded from the Affordable Housing Linkage Fee Revenue Fund if it is later determined on appeal or otherwise by the executive director (manager) of community planning and development that the fees were not due and owning under this division, if a decision is made by the applicant after a building permit has been issued to reduce the gross square feet of the construction project or to change the use of the structure to a use category for which a lower linkage fee would be imposed under section 27-153, or if the building permits for the project lapse or are relinquished by the applicant without the project being built. The executive director (manager) of community planning and development shall not be obligated to make any refund under this subsection (c) unless the applicant files a written request for a refund with the executive director within sixty (60) days from the day any grounds for a refund arise.
- (d) After a building permit has been issued and the applicable linkage fees have been paid, no additional fees shall be required under either of the following circumstances:

- (1) If the original building permit is cancelled in order to issue a replacement building permit to change the general contractor; or
 - (2) If modified drawings for the construction project are submitted and logged in for review, so long as the modified drawings do not increase the overall gross square-footage of the project.

Sec. 27-157. Reductions and Waivers.

- The executive director of the office of economic development may (a) reduce or waive the amount of linkage fees that would otherwise be imposed upon a specific development under Sec. 27-153 if the applicant for a reduction or waiver demonstrates that the required amount of fees exceeds the amount that would be needed to mitigate the actual demand for affordable housing created by the development. An application for such a reduction or waiver shall include information showing the reduced affordable housing impacts created by the development, based upon the actual characteristics of the development including, for example: (A) the unique characteristics and space utilization of the workforce that will occupy a nonresidential development and the demand of that particular workforce for affordable housing; (B) a non-residential development that will involve a structure built for and suitable solely for a specific use involving few or no employees; or (C) the unique characteristics of the residents who will occupy a residential development, and the likelihood those particular residents, due to their disposable household income or projected spending patterns, will not drive additional employment requiring additional affordable housing.
- (b) The executive director shall promptly notify in writing the executive director (manager) of the department of community planning and development of any reduction or waiver or linkage fees granted under the authority of this section.
