Project: Detached 3 car garage with ADU above

This project started because my current garage is in disrepair and saving the structure is not realistic. The garage is not structurally safe and does not meet current set back requirements. I initially planned to demo the garage and rebuild a 3 car garage in the rear portion of the property. However, during the planning phase, I came across several articles describing the benefits of ADU's. I realized that building an ADU above the new garage at the same time would be much more cost effective than trying to "add" an ADU later. Since my current zoning doesn't allow for an ADU, I decided to apply for rezoning.

If approved, I would work with a contractor to demo the current garage and build a detached ADU. Once finished, the primary use of the ADU would be as a long term rental. The structure would be a detached 3 car garage with living above. The ADU portion would likely be considered a 1 bedroom unit. The unit would be able to house 1-2 people. The tenants would have access to one of the 3 garage spaces.

Thank you for your consideration,

Kai Davids
