Statement of Compliance with General Review Criteria (DZC § 12.4.10.7)

This application proposes to rezone the approximately .72-acre property located at 3411 Albion Street from E-SU-DX to E-MX-2x (the "Property") to facilitate the redevelopment of the Property consistent with the recommendations in the adopted plans.

The site is located in the Northeast Park Hill neighborhood, ½ block east of Colorado Blvd., a Blueprint Denver identified Enhanced Transit Corridor. The property is located at the northwest corner of Albion Street and Bruce Randolph Avenue.

The map amendment request is to rezone the Property to the E-MX-2x Zone District. The proposed amendment will allow for redevelopment of an underutilized and largely vacant property. The Property would be limited to low scale building form and limited uses. The successful rezoning will allow for a quality project which will blend in with and promote growth of the established character of the neighborhood.

REVIEW CRITERION DZC § 12.4.10.7.A- The proposed official map amendment is consistent with the City's adopted plans.

The proposed map amendment is consistent with the following three adopted plans:

1. Denver Comprehensive Plan (2000)
2. Blueprint Denver (2002)
3. Park Hill Neighborhood Plan (2000)

Statement of Consistency with Adopted City Plans:

1. The proposed map amendment is consistent with many objectives of Denver Comprehensive Plan 2000 including:

Form and Land Use Strategy 3-B: "Encourage quality infill development that is consistent with the character of the surrounding neighborhood; that offers opportunities for increased density and more amenities; and that broadens the variety of compatible uses."

- Rezoning to E-MX-2x will encourage infill development that is consistent with the character of the surrounding neighborhood and provides for increased density, introducing attached housing to the mix of uses and adding increased residents and walkability to the existing mixed use neighborhood services and amenities.

Mobility Strategy 4-E: "Continue to promote mixed-use development, which enables people to live near work, retail and services."

- Rezoning to E-MX-2x will allow more people to live closer to nearby retail and services.

Housing Objective 6-E: “Identify and capitalize on opportunities to develop housing along transit lines.”

- E-MX-2x will allow housing to be developed along RTD route 40 on Colorado Blvd. and Route 34 on Bruce Randolph Blvd. There is a bus stops on both routes only ½ Block away.

Legacies Strategy 3-A: “Identify areas in which increased density and new uses are desirable and can be accommodated.”

- 3411 Albion is an area where, by rezoning to E-MX-2x, increased density is desirable due to proximity to transit, retail, services and amenities and can be accommodated.

The proposed map amendment rezoning to E-MX-2x will also contribute to preserving and enhance the individuality, diversity and livability of Denver’s neighborhoods by fostering the following Plan objectives:

Congruency of land use and zoning: “...a built environment with greater overall urban design integrity, stronger connections among urban centers, and a richer and more diverse mix of uses within geographically proximate areas.” (pg 55)

Compact development: “...improved neighborhood cohesion, reduced urban sprawl and residents more directly connected to services and amenities within their immediate living environment.” (pg 55)

2. The proposed map amendment is consistent with many objectives of Blueprint Denver including:

The Blueprint Denver future land use designation for the Property is located in an Area of Stability.

Blueprint Denver also states that “Areas of Stability represent the majority of Denver’s residential areas where there is a prevailing character that should be preserved or enhanced through reinvestment.”

The Blueprint Denver Plan Strategy: Preserve Stable Neighborhoods – the Property is in a Blueprint Denver identified Area of Stability and also meets the following Blueprint Denver Areas of Stability criteria, goals and objectives:

- The goal for the Areas of Stability is to identify and maintain the character of an area while accommodating some new development and redevelopment.
- Second, in stable residential neighborhoods there often are areas that would benefit from change, such as stagnant commercial development that would benefit from revitalization and possibly provide some neighborhood services. These areas, due to their lack of reinvestment, have a negative visual impact on the surrounding area.

- The Property also provides opportunities for the following Blueprint Denver Strategies including:
 - Housing, including affordable housing
 - Infill and redevelop vacant and underused properties
 - Compatibility between new and existing development
 - Balanced mix of uses
 - Economic activity—business retention, expansion and creation

The Areas of Stability can be thought of as belonging predominantly to one of the following two categories: “Committed Areas” and “Reinvestment Areas.”

Reinvestment Areas:

Reinvestment areas are neighborhoods with a character that is desirable to maintain but that would benefit from reinvestment through modest infill and redevelopment or major projects in a small area. These areas would encourage investment but in a more limited and targeted way than in Areas of Change. The Property is clearly in a reinvestment area.

Areas of Stability

These areas represent the bulk of the residential portions of the city and employment areas not designated as Areas of Change. Preserving and revitalizing neighborhood character has been a prevailing concern throughout the planning process. The need to direct and manage the location, type and intensity of future development is balanced by an equally strong desire to preserve those areas of the city with an established character. Within Areas of Stability there may be places such as stagnant commercial centers where reinvestment would be desirable to make the area an asset to and supportive of the surrounding neighborhood. Generally, Areas of Stability face two types of concerns: character preservation and reinvestment:

Strategies: Address incompatible zoning and land use issues; ensure that new buildings in the Areas of Stability are compatible with current conditions and character.

Map amendments: In some instances it may be appropriate to change the zoning in Areas of Stability to create a better match between existing land uses and the zoning. New E-MX-2x zoning for the Property will allow this Blueprint Denver goal to be implemented.

The Blueprint Denver future land use designation for the Property is Single Family Residential which is described as: “Neighborhoods of single family houses represent the majority of Denver’s residential areas, particularly those developed after 1900 and especially those built after 1940. Densities are fewer than 10 units per acre, often less than six units per acre neighborhood-wide, and the employment base is significantly smaller than the housing base. Single-family homes are the predominant residential type (Pg 42).”

(Blueprint Denver Land Use Map)

(Today's Zoning)

While the property is designated Single Family Residential in Blueprint, in reality the Property and surrounding area reflects different characteristics. The entire block the Property is located on does not contain a single-family home. The block and surrounding area consists of parking lots, intense auto-oriented commercial, fast food chains, churches, commercial buildings and low-density townhomes to the northeast. In fact, the surrounding zoning includes PUD in lots north and north-west of the Property, E-CC-3X to the west, the entire block east of the property is zoned E-MX-2X – a limited mixed use district designed to be embedded in stable neighborhoods, and the closest E-SU-DX property is a large church south of the Property.

Blueprint, in addressing the Single Family Residential land use also states on page 120: “... in stable residential neighborhoods there often are areas that would benefit from change, such as stagnant commercial development that would benefit from revitalization...”

The Blueprint Denver Plan Strategy: Innovative Transit Options– the Property is within Blueprint Denver identified Enhanced Transit Corridor Buffer (Colorado Blvd). The property is located within a block of Colorado Blvd and within a mile of the 40th & Colorado Light Rail Station and encourages a development that meets the following goals and objectives:

- “Higher density always reduces land consumption, but it only has transportation benefits when paired with a land-use mix that provides destinations within a convenient walking distance, in areas that have access to transit and transportation corridors” (pg 26)
- “It also will provide opportunities for more intensive, mixed-use development surrounding stations and along transit corridors.” (pg 26)
- “Strategies to improve mass transit circulation options within the city as well as to outlying suburbs is a planning reality if the city intends to preserve quality of life and ensure a sustainable future for residents.” (pg 26)

Relevance of Blueprint Denver Street Classifications:

3411 N Albion St. is on the northwest corner of Albion and Bruce Randolph Ave. Bruce Randolph is a Blueprint identified Residential Collector, making this location ideal from an access standpoint to increase density proximate to a collector, for which Blueprint emphasizes access and multi-modal opportunities. Bruce Randolph is home to RTD route 34 and is also well suited for bicycles. Access is also enhanced by the alley between Colorado Blvd. and Albion.

Albion is a Blueprint identified local street, tailored for providing local access. This is a typical condition throughout the City. Redevelopment of the Property under E-MX-2x can be easily accommodated by Albion which as a local benefits from being part of a porous regional multi-modal street network to include the alley, 35th Ave, Bruce Randolph, Martin Luther King Blvd., and Colorado Blvd., ensuring short trips in reliance on local streets.

In addition, 35th Avenue at the north end of this block is an City of Denver signed bike route, providing additional easy bicycle access to the Property.

3. The applicable neighborhood plan for the property is the Park Hill Neighborhood Plan, which was adopted in 2000.

The Park Hill Vision for the Future: Park Hill vision for the future is to preserve and enhance the positive qualities that make the neighborhood a unique place to live, work, learn, and play. (pg 7)

Land use and Zoning:

The Property is located in Park Hill Neighborhood Plan designated R-2 zone district. The Property is located in a Medium density residential area.

R-2: Multi-Unit Dwellings, Low Density: Typically duplexes and triplexes. Home occupations are allowed by permit. Minimum of 6,000 square feet of land required for each duplex structure with an additional 3,000 square feet required for every unit over 2. Density = 14.5 dwelling units/acre. (pg 90)

Goals (pg 32):

- Maintain the existing integrity of the residential character of Park Hill.
- Assure that continued growth and development in Park Hill results in a balanced and compatible mix of housing types and densities.
- Explore opportunities for live/work.
- Maintain and enhance the viability of residential and commercial land uses on Colorado Boulevard.

Actions (pg 33-36):

- LZ-3: Create and maintain a mix of housing types and sizes that are attractive and affordable to a diversity of ages, incomes, household types, sizes, cultural and ethnic backgrounds.
- LZ-17: Review existing business uses and zoning along Colorado Blvd. and East Colfax Avenue as well as within the neighborhood for compatibility of the allowed business uses with the adjoining and nearby residential uses. Propose zoning and other regulatory changes that would address the issues of compatibility

New E-MX-2x zoning for the Property will allow these Park Hill Neighborhood Plan goals to be implemented.

From Section 4.2.4.2 of the Denver zoning Code, the Specific Intent of E-MX-2X is:

E-MX-2x applies to small sites served primarily by local streets embedded within an existing or proposed neighborhood. These are typically one or two parcels and are limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses.

In addition, the General Purpose of E-MX districts includes:

The Mixed Use zone district standards are also intended to ensure new development contributes positively to established residential neighborhoods and character, and improves the transition between commercial development and adjacent residential neighborhoods.

These attributes of E-MX-2X make it the ideal new zone district for the Property.

REVIEW CRITERION DZC § 12.4.10.7.C - The proposed official map amendment results in regulations and restrictions that are uniform for each kind of building throughout each district having the same classification and bearing the same symbol or designation on the official map, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts.

Future development of the Property will result in uniformity of E-MX-2x district regulations and restrictions.

REVIEW CRITERION-The proposed official map amendment furthers the public health, safety, and general welfare of the City.

The proposed map amendment will further the public health, safety, and general welfare of the City by facilitating the improvement and development of the Property as desired by the City's adopted plans.

EXHIBIT C

Description of Justifying Circumstances and Neighborhood Context

Exhibit C

Statement of Compliance of Additional Review Criteria for Non-Legislative Rezoning (DZC § 12.10.8)

CRITERION DZC § 12.4.10.8.A - Justifying Circumstances - One of the following circumstances exists:

Statement of Justifying Circumstances:

“Since the date of the approval of the existing Zone District, there has been a change to such a degree that the proposed rezoning is in the public interest. Such change may include: Changed or changing conditions in a particular area, or in the city generally.”

The 3411 Albion Street Property, located in the North East Park Hill neighborhood is being rezoned to E-MX-2x.

The Property consists of underutilized buildings and vacant land that is efficiently served by existing infrastructure and public transit.

Changing Conditions as Justifying Circumstances:

Despite the neighborhood being designated as Single Family Residential, changes in this particular area and in the city in general have called for strategic development and redevelopment. Subsequent to the implementation of Blueprint Denver, the E-MX-2x zone district was created in 2010 to address the growing needs of stable residential neighborhoods without imposing on the residential character. This zone district is limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses. This E-MX-2x Zone District was applied to the entire east side of this same 3400 block of Albion St. in the 2010 city-wide rezoning.

An example of non-residential uses nearby is on the adjacent property at the north end of this same block and directly north of the subject Property is zoned PUD 539, a Mixed Use PUD allowing restaurant uses this PUD was approved after Blueprint Denver was adopted in 2002. However, it replaced and provided minor modifications to a previous PUD; PUD 68 which is older.

There have been additional developments in the vicinity that are justifying examples of changing conditions in the area. On this same 3400 block of Albion Street, 14 townhomes were developed in 2014 utilizing the same E-MX-2X zoning. This changing condition is identified in the photo below:

The 3411 Property rezoning to E-MX-2X is shown in upper right of 3400 Albion block. The new 14 unit townhome community developed in 2014 using E-MX-2x zoning on the same block is shown in the lower left. Colorado Blvd is to the right.

In 2016, less than a mile north of the Property at 40th and Colorado Blvd., RTD opened a new light rail station serving it's FasTracks A Line which brings users from various areas of metro Denver to both downtown and to Denver International Airport. An increase of retail, commercial, and services have occurred in the Park Hill area to accommodate needs of its growing residents.

Examples of a variety of recent developments in the vicinity include:

Project	Date	Location	Details	Distance from 3411 Albion*
Park Hill Village	2012	4300 Smith Road	390 Dwelling Units	9 blocks
Park Hill Village West	2010	4055, 4125, 4175, 4185 N. Albion Street	Commercial and 345 Affordable Housing Dwelling Units	8 blocks
Dahlia Square	2015	3401 Eudora Street	Mental Health Center of Denver	6 blocks
Skyland Village	2016	3454 E. 31 st Ave	68 dwelling units	7 blocks
Walgreens	2012	3555 Colorado Blvd	Grocery/pharmacy	3 blocks

*Actual distances to walk, ride or drive using the existing street grid.

In addition, numerous examples of positive change nearby include new restaurants, retail stores and coffee shops along Colorado Blvd. These are all examples of positive change trending in the immediate vicinity where reinvestment is occurring.

According to the Census Bureau, Colorado was the second-fastest growing state in 2015. The Census Bureau ranks Denver 11th on the list of cities in the country with the greatest addition of residents. Denver alone has grown by 100,000 people in just 7 years. Last year the Census Bureau estimated a 1.42% population growth for Denver. This statistical data are clear examples of changing circumstances in Denver and warrant for developments that will accommodate the growth of Denver's population as well as the amenities and services the residents will need and desire.

For these reasons it is in the public interest to encourage redevelopment of and reinvestment in the area.

This rezoning will be an implementation step of the policy, land use and transportation goals identified in the aforementioned Plans. Once rezoned, the Property can accommodate the neighborhood reinvestment at a scale anticipated by and prescribed in the plans. This rezoning is necessary for the following reasons:

1. Conformance with The Park Hill Neighborhood Plan.
2. Redevelopment and utilization of underused property.
3. Improves the transition from residential to mixed use development in the North East Park Hill neighborhood.
4. Further implementation of Blueprint Denver.

The proposed rezoning of the Property to E-MX-2x will allow for redevelopment of an underused property to a low-scaled building with limited uses. The property is in an excellent reinvestment area, right by an Enhanced Transit Corridor Buffer (Colorado Blvd) a location that would benefit from reinvestment through modest infill and redevelopment. Design elements imbedded in the E-MX-2x Zone District as building height and orientation will help create a quality community the City and its residents will be proud of. Located in an Area of Stability, the proposed rezoning to E-MX-2x and the development program offered by the applicant provide the form-based context to enable what the market, the community, and Denver's elected officials desire for the furtherance of the neighborhoods goals.

Statement of Consistency with Neighborhood Context and General Purpose of Zone Districts DZC Sec. 12.4.10.8:

This map amendment application requests approval of the E-MX-2X Zone District for the Property.

The Denver Zoning Code states that the General Purpose of the "E" Zone - Mixed Use Zone Districts is intended to promote safe, active, and pedestrian-scaled, diverse areas and enhance the convenience and ease of walking, shopping and public gathering within and around the city's neighborhoods while promoting and protecting residential neighborhoods within the character of the Urban Edge Neighborhood Context. These regulations allow for some multi-unit districts, but not to such an extent as to detract from the overall image and character of the residential neighborhood. By promoting existing and future patterns of lower scale multi-unit building forms that typically address the street in the same manner as an urban house building form as well as reinforce desired development patterns in existing neighborhoods while accommodating reinvestment.

The Mixed-Use Zone Districts are intended to enhance the convenience, ease and enjoyment of transit, walking, shopping and public gathering within and around the city's neighborhoods. The Mixed-Use Zone District standards are also intended to ensure new development contributes positively to established residential neighborhoods and character, and improves the transition between commercial development and adjacent residential neighborhoods.

E-MX-2x applies to small sites served primarily by local streets embedded within an existing or proposed neighborhood. These are typically one or two parcels and are limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses. E-MX-2x is an Urban Edge mixed-use district intended to promote modest development and redevelopment with building up to 2 stories high. Mixed Use districts are focused on creating mixed, diverse neighborhoods. The proposed use contemplated by the applicant will create and enhance a mixed, diverse neighborhood with improved connectivity between the residential and commercial.

The General Intent for this rezoning to E-MX-2x is as follows:

1. To Implement the Denver Comprehensive Plan and its supplements.
2. To implement Blueprint Denver.
3. Arrange building density, uses, heights, and scaling devices to reinforce the public transit centers and corridors, and to transition to adjoining areas
4. Arrange residential, employment, retail, service, and open space uses to be convenient to and compatible with each other and with transit.
5. Maximize pedestrian amenities near transit facilities and along the primary pedestrian connections to transit facilities.
6. To facilitate implementation of appropriate neighborhood scale reinvestment and provision of services in Areas of Stability.
7. To implement the Park Hill Neighborhood Plan stated goals of
 - a. Maintain the existing integrity of the residential character of Park Hill.
 - b. Assure that continued growth and development in Park Hill results in a balanced and compatible mix of housing types and densities.
 - c. Explore opportunities for live/work.
 - d. Maintain and enhance the viability of residential and commercial land uses on Colorado Boulevard.
8. The zoning standards are also intended to ensure new development contributes positively to established neighborhoods and character, and improves the transition between commercial development and adjacent residential neighborhoods.

The proposed rezoning and redevelopment of this .72 acre site to E-MX-2x is entirely consistent with the neighborhood context and general purpose of the zone district. This site is an excellent application of E-MX-2x, allowing for only 2 story low intensity development imbedded in the established neighborhood and also proximate to and easily accessible to Colorado Blvd. transit opportunities. It will also help to buffer the neighborhood from Colorado Blvd.

Session met at the building of Park Hill Presbyterian Church (OPC) at 3411 Albion Street, Denver, Colorado, on Sunday, July 22, 2018 at 6:22 p.m. The moderator, Kevin Reed, opened the meeting by reading Psalm 33:10-12 and praying.

1. ROLL PRESENT: Pastor Matthew Kingsbury, Elder Kevin Reed
ABSENT: Elder Lewis Reynolds
2. AGENDA This meeting was called by the moderator for the purpose of clarifying Pastor Kingsbury's authority when representing the session in matters related to the sale of our congregation's property.
3. AUTHORIZATION On motion, the session recognized Mr. Kingsbury's authority, as clerk of session, to represent the session and sign documents on its behalf in matters related to the sale of the congregation's property (see October 28, 2017 congregational meeting minutes).
4. ADJOURNMENT There being no further business, the moderator declared the meeting adjourned by Pastor Kingsbury's prayer at 6:26 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Matthew W. Kingsbury
Clerk of session

strangers on behalf of the Church (see FG §XI: 1). As supervised by the Session, they shall minister to the temporal needs of members and friends, manage the Church finances, and see to the care and maintenance of Church property.

- d. Any voting member may propose to the Session nominations for the offices of elders and deacons. The Session shall certify those nominees whom, upon examination, it judges to possess the necessary qualifications for office. An elder or deacon who had been previously certified but who resigned from or was divested of the office must be re-certified. At least one Lord's Day preceding the date appointed for the election the Session shall announce to the Church the names of those it has certified. Election shall be from those certified (see FG §XXV: 4). Voting on the election of elders and deacons shall be done by secret ballot, and each vote shall be cast either in favor of or against the election of each candidate, and those candidates receiving the vote of a majority in favor of their election shall be deemed elected. Elders and deacons shall be elected to lifetime service. However, they shall be allowed to take sabbaticals, at their own request, for definite or indefinite periods, as approved by the session. There shall be no upward limit on the number of members of the session or diaconate.
- e. An elder or deacon may be divested of his office by Church discipline for an offense in doctrine or life (see FG §XXVI: 1). He may also be divested if his services are not edifying to the congregation; such divestiture may occur only upon a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the congregation and with the permission of the presbytery (see FG §XXVI: 4-a). An elder or deacon also may resign from his office (see FG §XXVI: 4-b).

8. Pastor

- a. It is the charge of the pastor to feed and tend the flock as Christ's minister and with the other elders to lead them in all the service of Christ. It is his task to conduct the public worship of God; to pray for and with Christ's flock as the mouth of the people unto God; to feed the flock by the public reading and preaching of the Word of God, according to which he is to teach, convince, reprove, exhort, comfort, and evangelize, expounding and applying the truth of Scripture with ministerial authority, as a diligent workman approved by God; to administer the sacraments; to bless the people from God; to shepherd the flock and minister the Word according to the particular needs of groups, families, and individuals in the congregation, catechizing by teaching plainly the first principles of the oracles of God to the baptized youth and to adults who are yet babes in Christ, visiting in the homes of the people, instructing and counseling individuals, and training them to be faithful servants of Christ; to minister to the poor, the sick, the afflicted, and the dying; and to make known the gospel to the lost (see FG §VIII).
- b. If the Church desires to be relieved of its pastor, it may, through a duly called congregational meeting, ask him to resign. If the pastor agrees to do so, the presbytery shall be requested to dissolve the pastoral relationship as of a mutually agreeable date. If the pastor is not willing to resign, the Church may petition the presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relationship and may send representatives to the meeting to support the request. The presbytery may grant the request, but only after giving the pastor opportunity to present his reasons for not concurring, or it may urge the congregation to reconsider its action (see FG §XXIV: 2). The decision of the presbytery shall be final and binding, except when that decision is appealed to the General Assembly (see FG §XIV: 5).
- c. For tax purposes, the pastor shall be considered an employee of the Church.

9. Session

- a. The Session is the governing Body of the Church and consists of its pastor, its ruling elders, and its duly called and teaching elders (or "ministers"). The Session shall manage the business affairs of the corporation, oversee all matters concerning the conduct of public worship, and concert the best measures for promoting the spiritual growth and evangelistic witness of the congregation. It shall receive, dismiss, and exercise discipline over the members of the Church, supervise the activities of the Board of Deacons and all other organizations of the congregation, and have final authority over the use of the Church property (see FG §§X & XIII).
- b. The Session shall choose its own moderator (chairman) and clerk (secretary) annually from among its members (see FG §XIII: 4). The Session may also choose a vice-moderator from among its members, and shall appoint a treasurer, who must be a communicant member in good standing.

- c. The Session shall have final authority for affairs pertaining to property and other temporal matters as required by civil law for nonprofit corporations. In particular, the Session shall oversee the acquisition and disposition of Church property, which includes the management of its financial resources. Neither the Session nor its delegates shall have the power to buy, sell, mortgage, pledge or in any manner encumber any Church property worth more than $1,500, nor to incur any indebtedness, unless first authorized to do so at a congregational meeting, either through the adoption of the annual budget or by special action of the congregation. The Session may delegate to the Board of Trustees or to other communicant members such of these responsibilities as it deems appropriate.
- d. The Session shall meet at least quarterly and shall convene at the call of the moderator, the presbytery, any two members of the Session, or upon its own adjournment (see FG §XIII: 5). Either oral or written notice, including the date, time, and place of a meeting, shall be given at least two days before a meeting. If mailed, notice shall be deemed to be effective the day after the letter is postmarked. Notice may be waived either orally or in writing. An elder's or pastor's attendance at a meeting waives his right to object to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon arrival), he objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting, and does not vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.
- e. A quorum is two ruling elders, if there are three or more, or one ruling elder if there are fewer than three, together with the pastor. In no case may the Session conduct its business with fewer than two present who are entitled to vote (see FG §XIII: 5). When the Church is without a pastor, the Session shall request the presbytery to appoint a minister, normally of the same presbytery, to meet with them, or shall itself invite such a minister; he shall have the right to vote, and to be elected to moderate the meeting. When it is impractical without great inconvenience for a minister to attend, those present may conduct business, but the grounds for the call of such a meeting shall be reviewed at the next meeting at which a minister is present (see FG §XIII: 6).
- f. The act of a majority present at a Session meeting at which a quorum is present (when the vote is taken) shall be the act of the Session. A pastor or elder shall be deemed to have approved of an action taken if he is present at a meeting of the Session unless: (1) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon arrival) to holding it or transacting business at the meeting; or (2) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting; or (3) he did not approve the action and he delivers written notice of dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or immediately after adjournment of the meeting.
- g. If the Session shall cease to exist or become so small as to prevent it from working effectively, presbytery shall provide for the election and ordination of elders from within the congregation, or, with the consent of the congregation, may appoint ruling elders or ministers, or both, normally from within the same presbytery, to be an acting Session or to augment the existing Session temporarily (see FG §XIII: 10).
- h. The Session may meet by means of a conference telephone call or similar communications equipment, provided all persons entitled to participate in the meeting received proper notice of the telephone meeting, and provided all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time. A member participating in a conference telephone meeting is deemed present in person at the meeting. The moderator of the meeting may establish reasonable rules as to conducting business at any meeting by phone.
- i. The moderator shall be subject to the control of the Session. The moderator shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the members and of the Session, and shall conduct such meetings so as to facilitate free and respectful debate and decision-making.
- j. If the Session appoints a vice-moderator (vice-chairman), he shall perform, in good faith, the moderator's duties if the moderator is absent, dies, is unable or refuses to act. If the vice-moderator acts in the absence of the moderator, the vice-moderator shall have all of the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon the moderator. If there is no vice-moderator or the vice moderator is unable or refuses to act, then the secretary shall perform the moderatorial duties.

- k. The clerk shall be the secretary of the Church and shall in good faith: (1) create and maintain one or more books for the minutes of the proceedings of the members and of the Session; (2) provide that all notices are served in accordance with these bylaws or as required by law; (3) be custodian of the Church and corporate records; (4) subscribe the minutes of all meetings of the members and of the Session; (5) when requested or required, authenticate any records of the Church; (6) keep a current register of the post office address of each member; and (7) in general perform all duties incident to the office of secretary and any other duties that the moderator or the Session may assign to the secretary.
- l. The treasurer shall: (1) have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the Church; (2) give receipts for monies paid to the Church from any source; (3) submit the books and records to a Certified Public Accountant or other accountant as directed by the Session; (4) reimburse expenses incurred by employees and members according to the Accountable Reimbursement Plan developed by the session; and (5) in general perform all of the duties incident to the office of treasurer and any other duties that the moderator or Session may assign to the treasurer. If required by the Session, the treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful performance of the treasurer's duties and as insurance against the misappropriation of funds. If a bond is required, it shall be in a sum and with the surety or sureties that the Session shall determine.
- m. The Session may establish such committees as it deems necessary for the work of the Church.

10. Board of Deacons

The Board of Deacons shall oversee the ministry of mercy in the Church and shall collect and disperse funds for the relief of the needy. Other forms of service for the Church may also be committed to the deacons. The Board of Deacons shall choose its own officers from its membership. The Board of Deacons shall keep a record of its proceedings and of all funds and their distribution, and shall submit its records to the Session once every three months, and at other times upon request of the Session (see FG §XI).

11. Board of Trustees

- a. The Board of Trustees shall consist of all ruling elders and deacons, along with two communicant members in good standing from the congregation at large. At-large members shall serve the board for two-year terms. One at-large trustee shall be elected at each annual congregational meeting to succeed the at-large trustee whose term is expiring. At-large members of the Board of Trustees may be reelected. The pastor shall be and ex officio member of the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees shall elect a moderator and secretary from amongst its members. The moderator shall be subject to the control of the Session, and shall in general supervise and control, in good faith, all of the business and affairs of the Church. The moderator shall be the chairman of the Board of Trustees and the principal executive officer (president) of the corporation. The moderator may sign, with the secretary or any other proper officer of the Church the Board of Trustees has authorized, corporation deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other Board-authorized instruments. The Clerk of the Session shall be custodian of corporate records.
- b. The Board of Trustees shall have the power and authority to make rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the State of Colorado. The Board of Trustees shall appoint at least two persons from its membership to receive monies due and payable to the Church from any source, and deposit all monies in the Church's name in banks, trust companies, or other depositories that the Session shall select. Records of all such receipts and deposits shall be promptly forwarded to the Treasurer. The Board of Trustees shall be responsible for the acquisition and disposition of Church property, which includes the management of its financial resources. Neither the Board of Trustees nor its delegates shall have the power to buy, sell, mortgage, pledge or in any manner encumber any Church property worth more than $600, nor to incur any indebtedness unless first authorized to do so at a congregational meeting, either through the adoption of the annual budget or by special congregational action.
- c. The Board of Trustees shall meet at least annually and shall convene at the call of its moderator, the Session, or upon its own adjournment. A trustee's attendance at a meeting waives his right to object to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon arrival), he objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting, and does not vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting. Two-thirds of the trustees shall constitute a quorum.

- d. The Board of Trustees shall report on each of its meetings to the Session, which shall supervise all its activities and have final authority over the use of Church property (FG XIII:5). The Board of Trustees shall prepare an annual budget and submit it for the Session's approval prior to its presentation at the annual congregational meeting (FG XXXI:4).

12. Congregational Meetings

- a. An annual meeting of the Church shall be held each year at a date, time, and place to be determined by the Session (see FG §XVI:1). At the annual meeting, the voting members may elect ruling elders and deacons as certified by the Session, shall elect trustees, adopt an annual budget, review reports and financial statements of all organizations and representatives of the Church, and transact any other business as may come before the meeting.
- b. Special meetings of the Church shall be called at a date and location to be determined by the Session whenever the Session deems it to be in the best interests of the Church or when requested in writing to do so by one-fourth (1/4) of the voting members of the Church in good standing (see FG §XVI:1).
- c. The date, time, and location of all congregational meetings must be announced orally or in the Church bulletin at least two (2) Sundays prior to the time set for the meeting, or by letter mailed at least ten days prior to the meeting (see FG §XVI:3). If the voting members adjourn any congregational meeting to a different date, time, or place, notice of a new date, time, and place need not be given if the new date, time, and place is announced before adjournment. A member entitled to a notice may waive notice of the meeting (or any notice required by the laws of the State of Colorado or these bylaws), by a letter in writing signed by the member. The member must send the notice of waiver to the Church (either before or after the date and time stated in the notice) for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the Church records.
- d. The purpose of a meeting shall be announced in advance if it involves: a proposed amendment to the bylaws or articles of incorporation; the election or removal of officers; the calling or removal of the pastor; the acquisition or disposition of property worth more than $1500; the dissolution of the Church; or a question regarding the Church's denominational affiliation. When a meeting is called for the transaction of specific matters of business, no business shall be conducted except that which is stated in the notice (see FG §XVI:3).
- e. A member's attendance at a meeting: waives the member's right to object to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the member at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and, waives the member's right to object to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the member objects to considering the matter when it is presented.
- f. One-fourth (1/4) of the voting members shall constitute a quorum at congregational meetings. Unless provided otherwise in these Bylaws, a majority vote of those in attendance, a quorum being present, is sufficient to decide any matter.
- g. The moderator and the clerk of the Session shall serve as moderator and clerk respectively in congregational meetings (see FG §XVI:4).

13. Church Records

- a. The Session shall keep the following records: (1) minutes of its meetings, including a record of the administration of the sacraments and changes in the membership of the congregation; (2) minutes of the meetings of the congregation; (3) rolls of the members in the congregation (communicant, non-communicant, and voting), with the dates of their reception (see FG §XIII:8); (4) resolutions adopted by the Session; (5) appropriate accounting records; (6) its articles or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments to them currently in effect; and (7) its bylaws or restated bylaws and all amendments to them currently in effect.
- b. A member shall be entitled to inspect and copy, at a reasonable time and location specified by the Session, any of the Church records described above. The Session may limit access to any records that contain

The congregation met at the building of Park Hill Presbyterian Church (OPC) at 3411 Albion Street, Denver, Colorado, on Saturday, October 28, 2017 at 9:05 a.m. The moderator, Kevin Reed, opened the meeting by reading 1 Corinthians 1:18-31 and praying.

1. ROLL VOTING MEMBERS (PHPC Bylaw §6.c): Pastor Matthew Kingsbury, Elders Merlin Moore (emeritus), Kevin Reed & Lewis Reynolds; Deacons Richard Travis, Michigan Hill, Randall Cuerden & David Pastoor; Aaron & Emma Dalbey, Rachel McCarthy, John Knox, Shane & John Kuspiel, Charlene Freeman, Christine Alanis, Ruby Gray, Kathy Nightengale, LeRoy & Irene Petrie, Joanna Kingsbury, Joanne Cuerden, Laura Hill, Cara Reynolds, Shannon Clawson, Janet Moore, Cathleen Saffa, Darrah & Jeff Wallace, James Giles, Patricia Castillo, Lawrence Mobley, Natalie Hummell
NONVOTING COMMUNICANT MEMBERS: Anastasia Cuerden, Kuyper & Rigel Reynolds, Samuel Kingsbury
GUESTS: Yee Ming Lee

A quorum was present.

2. AGENDA This congregational meeting was called by virtue of an (undated) petition signed by over one-third of the congregation's communicant members:

We, the undersigned, communicant members in good and regular standing, do hereby call for a congregational meeting, in accordance with FOG XVI.1, to reconsider the future plans of Park Hill Presbyterian Church for the following reasons:

- 1) With the annual budget coming up for approval soon, it is imperative that we have an intentional plan in place that reflects the wishes of the congregation so that we will be in a better position to make fiscally responsible and wise financial decisions and not be fettered by a default action; and
- 2) No actual decision was made at the last congregational meeting, and this indecision will irrevocably harm the church body if further action is not taken soon, both in trusting our leadership and maintaining unity of the body; and lastly,
- 3) Members have expressed to one another that inadequate time was allowed for a thorough understanding of the two plans, that they felt rushed and ill-prepared to make a decision with only two weeks to consider the material, that some were intimidated by the judicious use of Robert's Rules of Order (thereby stifling participation), and that inadequate time was allowed for discussion and debate with the vote being called before questions and debate were exhausted.

At its meeting on September 18, 2017, the session set this agenda: the congregation will be asked to choose between Mr. Kingsbury's proposal to move to Aurora or to remain at our current location for the indefinite future while other plans are explored.

3. MOTION It was moved and seconded that we refer the motion to a committee of seven made up of side a and side b chosen by the session to research a viable option and educate the congregation with that information and henceforth unite the congregation in an option to further God's kingdom post haste to a time and date certain. After debate, a vote on the motion was held by ballot. The motion failed.

4. DEBATE After debate on the choice set before the congregation by the session, a vote was held by ballot. By a vote of 24 to 11, the election was for Mr. Kingsbury's proposal to move to Aurora.
5. LISTING It was moved that the congregation of Park Hill Presbyterian Church (OPC) authorize its session, per PHPC Bylaw §12.d, to act as its agent in listing its real property at 3411 Albion Street, Denver, Colorado and in negotiating its final selling price. The congregation hereby instructs that the property be listed initially at $1.5 million, and that any subsequent reduction below $1.25 million would require further authorization by the congregation. On motion, the congregation called the question. The motion carried.
6. MINUTES The clerk read the concept minutes.
7. ADJOURNMENT The end of the agenda having been reached, the moderator adjourned the meeting with his prayer at 11:13 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Matthew W. Kingsbury
Clerk of session

RE: 3411 N. Albion Map Amendment Application 2018I-00065

Dear Courtney,

Clayton Early Learning is a neighbor of this 34th & Albion property and we are pleased to write this letter of support for rezoning application 2018I-00065 for the property located at 3411 N. Albion. Our campus is close by, at the corner of Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. and Colorado Blvd. In addition, we own the Park Hill Golf Course which borders the north end of the 3400 block of Albion.

Clayton Early Learning is an engaged service provider to and member of this community. We recognize the shortage of housing limits housing choices and drives up housing prices for those we serve and for our employees. Adding a mix of housing stock, especially on vacant or underutilized sites such as the church at 3411 Albion makes sense for our City and our neighborhood.

The church is for sale and the congregation is leaving. We welcome the E-MX-2X zoning for many reasons. This part of Park Hill, adjacent to Colorado Blvd. has been characterized historically by large underutilized parking lots and by institutional and auto centric uses rather than single family homes. This largely vacant site is a magnet for drug distribution and drug use. These illicit uses can only go away if the property is redeveloped. It is important to support zoning that accommodates a variety of housing choices as does E-MX-2X, which will accommodate the expanding and changing wants and needs of our community while preserving the character of the neighborhood, while also helping to mitigate the housing shortage that is driving up home prices in Denver. Today the Property is zoned E-SU-DX which is a hinderance to reinvestment and will not provide new housing options at this location so close to Colorado Blvd.

It is important to note that the east side of Albion for this entire block is already zoned E-MC-2X, so the rezoning request makes sense to get the whole block to have consistent zoning. It makes no sense for the west side of the block to be stranded with SU zoning up against Colorado Blvd while the east side of the block already has the E-MX-2X zoning.

Rezoning to E-MX-2X will contribute to Park Hill's overall positive atmosphere, activate the street and make this diverse neighborhood more vibrant and interesting to explore, live, work, and play in. Please include this letter of support in the packet for Planning Board for their December 19 public hearing on this rezoning.

Sincerely,

RE: 3411 N. AlbionMap Amendment Application 2018I-00065

Dear Courtney,

I am a neighbor of this 34th & Albion property and I am pleased to write this letter of support for rezoning application 2018I-00065 for the property located at 3411 N. Albion at the northwest corner of Bruce Randolph Avenue and N. Albion Street in Northeast Park Hill.

I realize the church is for sale and the congregation is leaving. I welcome the E-MX-2X zoning for many reasons. This part of Park Hill, adjacent to Colorado Blvd. has been characterized historically by large underutilized parking lots and by institutional and auto centric uses rather than single family homes. As Denver continues to grow, I believe it is important to support zoning that accommodates a variety of housing choices as does E-MX-2X. I believe that there is an opportunity with new E-MX-2X zoning to encourage developments that accommodate the expanding and changing wants and needs of our community while preserving the character of the neighborhood, while also helping to mitigate the housing shortage that is driving up home prices in Denver. Today the Property is zoned E-SU-DX which is a hinderance to reinvestment and will not provide new housing options at this location so close to Colorado Blvd.

Rezoning to E-MX-2X keeps the current 30' height limit while allowing the introduction of townhomes that will make a great transition from the commercially intense Colorado Blvd. As E-MX-2X is limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses, this zoning is appropriate for and will enhance the character and walkability of the neighborhood. E-MX-2X is designed to facilitate low intensity reinvestment in neighborhoods and is a good fit for this location. Current adopted City Plans support this rezoning request.

It is important to note that the east side of Albion for this entire block is already zoned E-MC-2X, so the rezoning request makes sense to get the whole block to have consistent zoning. It makes no sense for the west side of the block to be stranded with SU zoning up against Colorado Blvd while the east side of the block already has the E-MX-2X zoning

The new draft of Blueprint acknowledges this inconsistency. In the new draft Blueprint Denver this site is in the Urban Edge context in a Low-Medium Residential Area. The Blueprint draft further supports the E-MX-2X rezoning, with the Urban Edge Low-Medium calling for:

“Mix of low- to mid-scale multi-unit residential options. Small-scale multi-unit buildings are interspersed between single- and twounit residential. Limited mixed-use along residential arterial and collector streets and at some intersections. Vacant institutional uses on corners or select sites may be appropriate locations to introduce additional residential intensity. Buildings are typically 2 to 2.5 stories.”

In addition, this location is close to multiple RTD bus routes and the 40th and Colorado Light rail station, which makes the property accessible through multiple forms of public transportation, reducing the need for parking and mitigating traffic impacts. Development of this site under E-MX-2X will not cause displacement of existing residents as the site is vacant.

The attributes of the E-MX-2X zoning are appropriate and will be a great fit for the neighborhood. I believe it will contribute to Park Hill’s overall positive atmosphere, activate the street and make this diverse neighborhood more vibrant and interesting to explore, live, work, and play in. Please include this letter of support in the packet for Planning Board for their December 19 public hearing on this rezoning.

RE: 3411 N. Albion Map Amendment Application 20181-00065

Dear Courtney,

We are / I am a neighbor of this 34th & Albion property and am /are pleased to write this letter of support for rezoning application 20181-00065 for the property located at 3411 N. Albion at the northwest corner of Bruce Randolph Avenue and N. Albion Street in Northeast Park Hill.

I / we realize the church is for sale and the congregation is leaving. I / We welcome the E-MX-2X zoning for many reasons. This part of Park Hill, adjacent to Colorado Blvd. has been characterized historically by large underutilized parking lots and by institutional and auto centric uses rather than single family homes. As Denver continues to grow, I / we believe it is important to support zoning that accommodates a variety of housing choices as does E-MX-2X. I /we believe that there is an opportunity with new E-MX-2X zoning to encourage developments that accommodate the expanding and changing wants and needs of our community while preserving the character of the neighborhood, while also helping to mitigate the housing shortage that is driving up home prices in Denver. Today the Property is zoned E-SU-DX which is a hindrance to reinvestment and will not provide new housing options at this location so close to Colorado Blvd.

Rezoning to E-MX-2X keeps the current 30' height limit while allowing the introduction of townhomes that will make a great transition from the commercially intense Colorado Blvd. As E-MX-2X is limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses, this zoning is appropriate for and will enhance the character and walkability of the neighborhood. E-MX-2X is designed to facilitate low intensity reinvestment in neighborhoods and is a good fit for this location. Current adopted City Plans support this rezoning request.

It is important to note that the east side of Albion for this entire block is already zoned E-MC-2X, so the rezoning request makes sense to get the whole block to have consistent zoning. It makes no sense for the west side of the block to be stranded with SU zoning up against Colorado Blvd while the east side of the block already has the E-MX-2X zoning

The new draft of Blueprint acknowledges this inconsistency. In the new draft Blueprint Denver this site is in the Urban Edge context in a Low-Medium Residential Area. The Blueprint draft further supports the E-MX-2X rezoning, with the Urban Edge Low-Medium calling for:

“Mix of low- to mid-scale multi-unit residential options. Small-scale multi-unit buildings are interspersed between single- and two unit residential. Limited mixed-use along residential arterial and collector streets and at some intersections. Vacant institutional uses on corners or select sites may be appropriate locations to introduce additional residential intensity. Buildings are typically 2 to 2.5 stories.”

In addition, this location is close to multiple RTD bus routes and the 40th and Colorado Light rail station, which makes the property accessible through multiple forms of public transportation, reducing the need for parking and mitigating traffic impacts. Development of this site under E-MX-2X will not cause displacement of existing residents as the site is vacant.

The attributes of the E-MX-2X zoning are appropriate and will be a great fit for the neighborhood. I / We believe it will contribute to Park Hill's over all positive atmosphere, activate the street and make this diverse neighborhood more vibrant and interesting to explore, live, work, and play in. Please include this letter of support in the packet for Planning Board for their December 19 public hearing on this rezoning.

Sincerely,

Eli Stephens

RE: 3411 N. Albion Map Amendment Application 2018I-00065

Dear Courtney,

We are a neighbor of the property at 34th & Albion and are pleased to write this letter of support for rezoning application 2018I-00065. This application is for the property located at 3411 N. Albion at the northwest corner of Bruce Randolph Avenue and N. Albion Street in Northeast Park Hill.

With the church for sale and congregation moving their home, we welcome the E-MX-2X zoning for many reasons. This part of Park Hill, adjacent to Colorado Blvd. has been characterized historically by large under-utilized parking lots, institutional and auto-centric uses rather than single family homes. As Denver continues to grow, we believe in supporting zoning that accommodates a variety of housing choices like E-MX-2X. We see great opportunity with new E-MX-2X zoning for this area as it encourages developments that accommodate the expanding and changing wants and needs of our community. Furthermore, the rezoning of this property to E-MX-2X provides a chance to not only preserve the character of our neighborhood, but also a way to help mitigate the housing shortage that continues to increase housing prices in Denver. Today the 3411 N. Albion is zoned as E-SU-DX, which hinders reinvestment and does not provide new housing options. Being so close to Colorado Boulevard and Interstate 70 makes our neighborhood a great location for any working family to settle down in.

Rezoning to E-MX-2X keeps the current 30' height limit but allows the introduction of townhomes. We see this zoning as a great transition from the commercially-intense Colorado Blvd. As E-MX-2X is limited to low scale building forms and low intensity uses, this zoning will enhance the character and walkability of the neighborhood. E-MX-2X is designed to facilitate low intensity reinvestment in neighborhoods and is a good fit for this location. Current adopted City Plans support this rezoning request.

Currently, the east side of Albion for the entire block is zoned E-MC-2X, so the rezoning request will promote consistency through the neighborhood. We see the current SU zoning for the west side of the block as inconsistent and would love the opportunity to see more families in the neighborhood to promote a sense of community and to continue making our beautiful section of Park Hill home.

The new draft of Blueprint acknowledges this inconsistency. In the new draft Blueprint Denver this site is in the Urban Edge context in a Low-Medium Residential Area. The Blueprint draft further supports the E-MX-2X rezoning, with the Urban Edge Low-Medium calling for:

“Mix of low- to mid-scale multi-unit residential options. Small-scale multi-unit buildings are interspersed between single- and two unit residential. Limited mixed-use along residential arterial and collector streets and at some intersections. Vacant institutional uses on corners or select sites may be appropriate locations to introduce additional residential intensity. Buildings are typically 2 to 2.5 stories.”

In addition, this location is close to multiple RTD bus routes and the 40th and Colorado Light rail station, which makes the property accessible through multiple forms of public transportation, reducing the need for parking and mitigating traffic impacts. Development of this site under E-MX-2X will not cause displacement of existing residents as the site is vacant.

The attributes of the E-MX-2X zoning are appropriate and will be a great fit for the neighborhood. We believe it will contribute to Park Hill’s over all positive atmosphere, activate the street and make this diverse neighborhood more vibrant and interesting to explore, live, work, and play in. Please include this letter of support in the packet for Planning Board for their December 19 public hearing on this rezoning. Dear Ms. Levingston and Members of the Community Planning Board,

My name is Milagros Barsallo, I am a community member and homeowner in North Park Hill. I am writing this letter concerning the rezoning of the property that is currently Park Hill Presbyterian Church (Application 2018i-00065 for rezoning to E-MX-2X). This issue has been one that I have been following closely, and I have had a hard time deciding whether or not the rezoning of the property should move forward. Ultimately, it was my understanding of Park Hill Presbyterian Church's importance and history in the Park Hill community, and my conversation with Pastor Matthew Kingsbury that compelled me to write this letter in support for the rezoning.

I have spent my career working in the public sector in education, in the nonprofit sector, and in community organizing, all areas where people gather to create change, and I have noticed that the way people define community tends to be rooted in the personal here and now, and in a personal vision of the future (i.e.- future generations of one's family). For me, growing up in a Latino family, my sense of community includes both of these things, but extends a little bit further to include an understanding of the community that existed before me. Culturally, for us, in order to focus on what we have in our community now, and know what we want for our community's future, we must be rooted in our community's past. Though I have found this element to also exist in other communities of color, I do not see it consistently in conversations about community outside of these contexts.

My family moved to Aurora when I was six, and I have spent most of my life in Colorado since that time. While I am not new to Colorado, I am new to North Park Hill. I bought my first home here, a townhouse constructed by Rubix Group, in October of 2015. I chose this neighborhood because I was thinking about those three elements of community- the racial and economic diversity of the neighborhood was important to me, and when I thought about my future family, a diverse and thriving community was one I wanted for them as well. I also knew that North Park Hill had an important history of struggle and perseverance that made it the wonderful community it is today, and understanding that history was part of my decision as well. Since I moved here in 2015, in my participation in conversations about different issues in the area (City Park Golf Course, Park Hill Golf Course, etc.), there has been very strong opinions from neighbors (and others from outside the neighborhood), but I've found most of these to be rooted in the personal here and now, and the personal future, without any serious consideration of the third element of honoring the community's past in considering its present and future unless it was one small convenient talking point to support one's position. As far as this rezoning was concerned, I had heard what Rubix Group had to say, and I had heard what the neighborhood associations' concerns were, but I had not heard from the church.

In my conversation with Pastor Matthew Kingsbury he shared with me that in its more than 100 years in Denver, the church moved from its 29th & Downing location to the current location in the 1950s. Throughout the years the church worked to run food and clothing banks, and provide Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the Park Hill community through its outreach ministries. He shared with me that as the community changed, the membership has gone from being more community-based to being more of a commuter congregation. He said that although they had received several unsolicited offers to buy their property over the past few years, they did have to make the decision to put the property up for sale until early in 2018. The church is currently experiencing a severe financial crunch and struggling to maintain both its deteriorating facilities and its membership, much less grow in any capacity. When I asked Pastor Kingsbury what the sale would mean for the congregation, he simply said "If this doesn't go through, I don't see the congregation surviving," further sharing that they wouldn't even survive through the end of 2019.

In considering all of the different perspectives in this issue, this is the one that weighs on me most. I have attended the same church since I was eight. It is a community institution in Aurora undergoing similar financial challenges for facility maintenance and has recently had some success after three years of hard fundraising, but I cannot imagine it disappearing after its 55-year history in the community due to these financial troubles. Its impact extends beyond me; it was ministering to the community before I was a parishioner there, and will continue to do so long after. This is the case with Park Hill Presbyterian as well if it can continue to exist. Honestly, there is a long list of things that North Park Hill needs (a grocery store, more affordable housing units, better sidewalks, etc.) and for me, the development of 20 new high-end townhomes is not on that list. It would only further contribute to the rapid gentrification of the neighborhood, but in considering our Park Hill community, I cannot in good conscience watch a 100 year-old community institution disappear when there is another alternative for them. Even if Pastor Kingsbury and his congregation will be relocating, the church's impact on the history of the community is undeniable. I have watched Denver grow immensely since I moved back in 2009, and know that if not for Park Hill Presbyterian and Rubix Group, this zoning will get changed to E-MX-2X eventually for another developer, but by then it may be too late for the church. I ask the Planning Board to support the Proposal 2018i-00065 as the re-zoning and purchase of this property now to ensure the survival of Park Hill Presbyterian Church.

In considering the future of our Park Hill Community and the valid concerns of many of the neighborhood associations, and the city at-large, I urge the planning board and the Community Planning and Development Office and its partners to think more creatively about how to address the need for more affordable housing throughout the city, including in Park Hill. Though the townhouses that Rubix Group plans to build at the $400,000 price point will be much more accessible than many homes on the market right now, they are certainly not affordable housing units. Len and I have spoken openly about this. In the years I have known Len Goldberg, he and members of his team at Rubix have proven to be hardworking and trustworthy. Len takes seriously his work constructing a home, many times, like in this price range, a first home, and building a relationship with homeowners. In the time I have known him he has expressed to me that he prefers to construct more homes that are more affordable, than to construct luxury homes at higher price points, and that subsidies would make this much more possible for a company like Rubix. Len prioritizes purchasing vacant lots (like the one where my and my six neighbors' homes sit now), or makes an offer on a property that the owner has decided to sell (like in the case of Park Hill Presbyterian Church), he does not make unsolicited offers in properties. My knowledge of city planning and development is extremely limited, but I do now that the city is always working with finite resources, so I'd like to suggest taking a page out of the book of another sector I am much more familiar with where this is also the case. In the nonprofit sector, we also contend with permanently finite resources, and constant competition for a small pot of those resources.

Aside from the traditional grant making processes that I know the city also takes part in, one other idea occurs to me. As a nonprofit founder, my co-founders and I participated in many competitions that asked social entrepreneurs to come forward and present their most innovative solutions (Echoing Green, Uncharted, etc.) to the problems they had identified in their communities. The prizes for these competitions consisted of those finite resources—both monetary and otherwise (a large grant as well as a one or two year fellowship that came with professional development to further develop your idea or company, and connections to future investors and a helpful network of support etc.). These competitions exist for tech startups as well (TechStars, YCombinator, etc.) where resources are not as finite as companies will eventually turn their own profits, but competition is fierce for similar products. I would encourage the city to consider a process like this for different desirable and highly valuable parcels of land throughout the city—have developers submit their most innovative proposals for creating affordable housing units on these parcels and the award to the winning developer, aside from allowing them to purchase the property, can be in some part monetary- a subsidy, but also non-monetary- multi-year support from the city through a community input process and re-zoning process on the new project for example. I am confident that in this type of process, innovative developers like Len and his team at Rubix who want to create high quality, affordable homes would step forward to take part in the process. This is just one idea. Like I shared, I could certainly learn more about city planning and development. I know that your hard work and innovative thinking will ensure that future home developments in Park Hill will be more conscious of affordability and slow down the gentrification and gentefication of our community.

Thank you for your time and consideration of my letter.

Gratefully yours,
Milagros Barsallo

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Rezoning

Hello,

I am writing to convey my displeasure of the rezoning of park hill Presbyterian church. 3411 Albion street. I am hoping that it can continue to stay as it is for the fact that a neighborhood should keep some of its history and that the church serves a vital role in helping the community. This church has given out food and clothing to the needy and provided programs for the children of the neighborhood. In our rush to gentrify neighborhoods we need to slow down and consider mixing the old with the new. There already is the housing across the street and I don't feel that we need anymore housing projects there. I hope that the church will be allowed to stay and enhance the neighborhood and be given a chance to thrive in the community and let the housing project be erected elsewhere.

Thank you for your consideration in this manner

The members of Greater Metro Denver Ministerial Alliance object to the rezoning of 3411 Albion Street from a Single Use (E-SU-Dx) to Mixed Use (E-MX-2x).

We understand that at the September and November Northeast Park Hill Coalition meetings, Bruce O'Donnell reported that with the rezoning, townhomes will be built on the lot at 3411 Albion St, and will be sold at market rate. Most members of our community will not be able to purchase a townhome, and the unintended consequences will result in community members being displaced.

The Greater Metro Denver Ministerial Alliance has been an integral part of this community. We have fought for years to find ways to ensure affordable housing for lower-income citizens. We are concerned that the previous townhomes built on Albion and 35th St. did not further this objective, and we do not want to see more housing in this community that does not promote racial and economical diversity.

As members of the community, we stand against the rezoning of 3411 Albion St. We, along with this community, are currently looking at alternatives that better suit our needs and would not like to see a project like this come into our neighborhood without weighing other options.

Sincerely,

In addition, Blueprint Denver, the city document that is used to achieve the vision outlined in Plan 2000, indicates for much of Denver is labeled an Area of Stability, and two of its strategies are 1) address incompatible zoning and land use issues, and 2) diversity of housing type, size, cost.

I, DAVE BECHHOEFER, object to the rezoning of 3411 Albion St from a Single Use (E-SU-Dx) to Mixed Use (E-MX-2x). This rezoning is in direct contradiction of the current Park Hill Neighborhood Plan, part of the Denver Comprehensive Plan 2000 that says

[Page 33] LZ-3 Create and maintain a mix of housing types and sizes that are attractive and affordable to a diversity of ages, incomes, household types, sizes, cultural and ethnic backgrounds.

At the September and November Northeast Park Hill Coalition meetings, Bruce O'Donnell reported that with the rezoning, townhomes will be built on the lot at 3411 Albion St, and will be sold at market rate. Most members of our community will not be able to purchase a townhome, and will be displaced.

Stop Rezoning in Park Hill!

The Park Hill Presbyterian Church, located at 3411 Albion St, is up for sale. The developers plan to build 22 townhomes and sell them for market rate (over $350,000). Most members of our community will not be able to purchase a townhome, and the unintended consequences will result in community members being displaced.

Please sign this petition to help stop the rezoning in Park Hill!

Stop Rezoning in Park Hill!

The Park Hill Presbyterian Church, located at 3411 Albion St, is up for sale. The developers plan to build 22 townhomes and sell them for market rate (over $350,000). Most members of our community will not be able to purchase a townhome, and the unintended consequences will result in community members being displaced.

Recipient: Denver City Council

Letter: Greetings,

I, _____, object to the rezoning of 3411 Albion St from a Single Use (E-SU-Dx) to Mixed Use (E-MX-2x). This rezoning is in direct contradiction of the current Park Hill Neighborhood Plan, part of the Denver Comprehensive Plan 2000 that says

[Page 33]LZ-3 Create and maintain a mix of housing types and sizes that are attractive and affordable to a diversity of ages, incomes, household types, sizes, cultural and ethnic backgrounds.

At the September and November Northeast Park Hill Coalition meetings, Bruce O'Donnell reported that with the rezoning, townhomes will be built on the lot at 3411 Albion St, and will be sold at market rate. Most members of our community will not be able to purchase a townhome, and will be displaced.

In addition, Blueprint Denver, the city document that is used to achieve the vision outlined in Plan 2000, indicates for much of Denver is labeled an Area of Stability, and two of its strategies are 1) address incompatible zoning and land use issues, and 2) diversity of housing type, size, cost.

The community is currently looking at alternatives that better suit our needs and would not like to see a project like this come into our neighborhood without weighing other options..

As a member of the community, I stand against the rezoning of 3411 Albion St.

3411 Albion Street

February 2019

I was asked by Community Planning and Development to mediate a rezoning agreement between the Presbyterian Church and Northeast Park Hill Coalition. The rezoning request is being submitted by the Presbyterian Church for their property at 3411 Albion Street. The Northeast Park Hill Coalition is the registered neighborhood organization for this area. The Northeast Denver Islamic Center was also very involved in the discussions.

When I became involved, the potential property owner and developer for 3411 Albion Street, Len Goldberg, had opted to pay the affordable housing linkage fee of approximately $65,000 and to build twenty-two market rate units on the property.

I met with Leslie Williams, president of Northeast Park Hill Coalition (NEPHC) and Imam Ali, the Imam for Northeast Denver Islamic Center. The NEPHC had held a neighborhood meeting earlier and based upon their commitment to maintaining the culture, affordability, context, and diversity of the neighborhood; NEPHC was asking that ten of the units be dedicated affordable housing units.

I then met with

- Robert Davis, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist church directly across from the property,
- Matthew Kingsbury, pastor of the Presbyterian Church selling the property,
- Blair Taylor, Greater Park Hill Community,
- Jane Harrington, Colorado Community Land Trust,
- Leslie Williams, President of Northeast Park Hill Coalition,
- Courtney Levingston, Community Planning and Development,
- Roger Cobb, Office of Economic Development and member of NEPHC,
- Carroll Watkins Ali, Northeast Denver Islamic Center
- Imam Ali, Northeast Denver Islamic Center, and
- Kevin Marchman, HUD Housing

In this meeting we discussed the potential zoning change, possible number of market rate housing, desired affordable housing units, the importance of maintaining the neighborhood character, and real affordability.

The outcome was that Mr Goldberg agreed not to pay the optional linkage fee and to build one deed restricted, affordable housing unit. The sale price for this unit being approximately $235,000, rather than market rate. More discussion took place and we ultimately ended up with Mr Goldberg agreeing to deed restrict three units for affordable housing.

In a follow-up meeting we learned that Public Works requirements will probably lessen the number of total units from the expected twenty-two to twenty. Mr Goldberg assured the group he was still committed to providing three, deed restricted affordable housing units.

NEPHC held a neighborhood meeting on Thursday, February 14, and determined they were willing to reduce their affordable housing request from ten down to five. If five units would be set aside as deed restricted affordable housing units, they would not oppose and may well support the rezoning. During this time NEPHC was also moving forward with gathering signatures for a protest petition.

On Friday, February 15, Mr Goldberg said he was unable dedicate five units. He reminded everyone that his commitment to three units was already committing to approximately 15% affordable housing units and the numbers just would not support further increases in affordable housing.

Several discussions took place over the weekend, with the result being that Mr Goldberg committed to providing four affordable housing units (25%), if the Northeast Park Hill Coalition (the representing RNO), Northeast Denver Islamic Center (directly across the street from the property), and the Seventh-day Adventist Church (also across the street from the property) would provide a letter of support for the proposed rezoning. Iman Ali said he was committed to making this deal work.

I am submitting this summary by CPD's deadline, Tuesday, February 19, 2019. There are ongoing discussions and a neighborhood meeting that will take place yet this week to determine if we have an agreement or not. I will submit an addendum on Friday, February 22nd with the final outcome.

Subsequent to an agreement, the covenants and deed restrictions will be signed by all parties.

Thank you,

DATE: February 20, 2019
SUBJECT: Petition of Protest - Council Bill #18-1541, Series 2019

OVERVIEW OF STAFF REVIEW PROCESS TO IMPLEMENT REVIEW CONSISTENT WITH DIVISION 12.4.10.11 OF THE CODE.

- Step 1: Created 200 foot buffer map - Created by Community Planning and Development (CPD) and attached.
 - The Denver Zoning Code (Section 12.4.10.5.A.1) allows a protest petition of owners of 20% or more of either [1] the total gross land area inside the boundary of the area proposed for rezoning, or [2] the 200-foot buffer outside the boundary of the area proposed for rezoning. CPD created a map of the 200-foot buffer outside the boundary of the area proposed for rezoning.

- Step 2: Confirmed that all addresses signed are in the buffer.

- Step 3: Determined if signatures are valid and accurately represent ownership.
 - Instructions provided state that, “for properties owned by other than the individuals (e.g. corporation, trust, partnership) recorded on the Assessor records, the petitioner must ensure that the person(s) signing the Petition is duly authorized to represent the property, This evidence includes Deeds of Trust, Powers of Attorney or other legal documentation declaring the signatory is the appropriate representative for a property.” Three (3) of the 8 signatures provided on the protest petition form were rejected as signature authority documentation was not provided.
 - Instructions provided state that “individuals must sign and print their names in the exact same manner as they hold title to the property” Three (3) of the 8 signatures provided on the protest petition form did not match the names on the title/ownership records.

- Step 4: Calculated valid signatures to assess percentage.
 - Results are on the attached map
