The City and the Company have both made commitments to sustainability, reliability, and affordability, and to energy leadership. In entering into this Agreement, and forming the Areas of Focus, the City and the Company have considered how climate change, availability, reliability and affordability of utility services, and customer choice impacts developing energy infrastructure. The Company plays an important role in the City's achievement of its energy goals. As the experts in system planning, resiliency, and load forecasting, the City will consider the Company's guidance on matters as the City works towards achieving its energy and sustainability goals. In addition, the City commits to work cooperatively with the Company towards a net-zero energy future, and supports the Company's successes and efforts documented in the Company's 2025 Colorado Impact Report. The City and the Company will continue to keep these considerations in mind as they undertake this Agreement.
