Executive Summary with Rationale and Impact:

Detailed description of the item and why we are doing it. This can be a separate attachment.

On August 16, 2022, the owner and developer of 1741 Gaylord Street submitted a Certificate of Demolition Eligibility (CDE) application to CPD. Landmark staff reviewed the property and found it had the potential to be an Individual Denver Landmark. Staff prepared a report of Landmark's findings and posted public notice of the CDE, which paused the process for 21 days. Within the 21-day public notice period, residents of Denver filed a Notice of Intent, which extended the notice period and initiated third-party facilitated stakeholder meetings. During the extended posting period, multiple stakeholder meetings were held; however, no consensus was reached, and three Denver residents prepared and submitted an owner-opposed designation application. At the Landmark Preservation Commission (LPC) public hearing on March 7, 2023, the LPC found that the designation application met three of ten criteria, recommended approval, and forwarded it to City Council.
