Vendor/Contractor Name (including any "DBA"): Colorado Women's Employment and Education

Type and Scope of services to be performed:

CWEE will serve multiple priority populations who have been disproportionately affected by COVID-19, providing essential skills-building, with a heavy focus on improving digital literacy. Programming is designed to enable individuals to attain quality employment that leads to getting off public benefits and self-sufficiency. The programming will assist clients in obtaining jobs with advancement potential and an emphasis on creating access to career pathways in high-growth, in-demand industries in Denver.

Executive Summary

CWEE fosters personal and professional transformation for low-income families through confidence building, customized skills training, and career advancement. CWEE supports low-income career seekers, most of them single parents, to train for and launch careers so they can support their families and achieve their personal and professional goals. Over four decades, CWEE has honed its practice to deliver highly effective employment support that is trauma-informed, driven by neuroscience and supplemented by motivational coaching. CWEE provides holistic personal and professional support to address each career seeker's unique challenges and to facilitate a supportive path to long-term employment success. CWEE's approach to workforce development and anti-poverty work is successful because of its commitment to providing an array of personal and family support services for career seekers, including mental health counseling and help to secure housing, childcare, transportation, and other essentials. With over 40 years in the community, CWEE has developed a network of over 100 quality employer partners.

CWEE will recruit, enroll, and serve 200 participants through its comprehensive workforce development programming. Participants receive case management and wraparound support that assist in barrier reduction to making progress on employment and education goals, including taking courses that build skills needed to attain, retain, and advance in quality employment. Participants will first take CWEE Basics, which teaches essential digital literacy, including "digital soft-skills," and increasing their confidence with using technology.

Participants then opt into one of three Pathways:

- (1) Employment Pathway, customized support around job search and placement.
- (2) Workforce Readiness Pathway, workplace readiness modules to develop communication, self-management, working with others, and pre-employment skills.
- (3) Education Pathway, receiving instruction on math and reading skills needed to attain their High School Equivalency (HSE) or support pursuing post-secondary education. Advanced Computing courses are also available for all participants.
